BY WILLIAM LAWSON.

Chicago Tribune Press Service.

Arlington, Va., June 3.—[Special.] Deputy Sheriff James Crowe, who with Deputy Sheriff James McTigue and City Policeman W. H. Weller, is charged with the murder on May 9 of J. M. Kendrick, 17 year old Henry and Henry college student, was placed on trial in the Washington Circuit court today.

Just before 6 o'clock tonight, after opening counsel had finished, their opening statements, and the first of nearly two score witnesses had been briefly examined, the twelve mounted jurors who compose the jury were picked up for the night.

Judge A. C. Buchanan of Tazewell county is presiding. He was appointed by Gov. Harry F. Byrd when Judge H. C. Stuart of Abingdon declined to sit in a case involving his own officers.

Driver of Car Testifies.

Paul Phelps, driver of the car in which young Kendrick was riding when killed, was the first witness called by the state. Under direct examination Phelps sketched his movements throughout the day Kendrick was shot. He flatly denied that he had been drinking, and could not be shaken by the grilling of the defense attorney.

Young Kendrick was killed about one mile outside Abingdon while he and two friends, Phelps and Sterling Dutton, were seeking to escape a trap laid for them by the three officers.

Phelps denied or did not hear the command to halt and the officers opened fire. One of the bullets crashed through Kendrick's head and he died several hours later in an Abingdon hospital.

The boy, it is asserted, died a victim of law enforcement zeal inspired by the high fees which are paid arresting officers in this and neighboring counties.

No for Every Conviction.

Under the law, the officers are allowed $10 for every liquor case in which a conviction is secured, while the prosecuting attorney receives $5 and the magistrate $2.50.

Worley, formerly a gypsmine mine foreman, and Crowe, a mountain farmer, went into the lucrative business of liquor smuggling, and according to company records averaged more than $150 a week each in fees. Virtually every arrest meant charges of driving while drunk, illegal possession of liquor and illegal transportation of liquor—three separate charges, carrying separate fees for each of the officers—and dry law case acquittals in Washington county have been few and far between.

Separate Trials Obtained.

Defense counsel demanded a severance of charges against the three officers this morning and Commonwealth Attorney Fred Parks elected to try Crowe first. Crowe, big, forbidding looking mountaineer, was arraigned without and pleaded not guilty to the charge of murder.

In his opening statement Prosecutor Parks attacked the "lawless enforcement" of Volsteadism in southwestern Virginia, which has been marked by several bloody incidents and innumerable cases in which citizens have narrowly escaped death or serious injury at the hands of "hair trigger" enforcement officers.

"I believe in the strict enforcement of prohibition," Mr. Parks told the court, "and no one could possibly have a stronger desire than I have, in my official capacity, to see it rigidly enforced. But nothing will do more to knock down liquor law enforcement than laws enforcing methods.

Defenses Officer's Duties.

"An officer," he continued, "has the right and the duty to arrest for a misdemeanor, but he has no right to make a human life in a case which does not involve a capital felony, and no one in this trial will contend that young Kendrick had committed such a felony. No officer has the right at any time to fire upon one accused of a misdemeanor, even if the accused has ignored a command to halt, and the survivors in this case insist that they heard no command."

The Commonwealth of Virginia regards the lives of its citizens as so sacred that it has enacted laws which protect the life of a man, accused of a misdemeanor, and the state contends in this case that the officers had no right to shoot down men and juries cannot decide the death penalty.

"Instead of proceeding as they should have done, to make an order to arrest in a lawful manner when Copyright, 1929, by The Chicago Tribune.

MRS. COREY AND PRINCE BREAK UP OVER SIMPLE LIFE

LONDON, June 4. [Tuesday.]—(AP)—The London Express today quotes the Infanta Eulalia of Spain as saying that Mrs. Mabel Gilman Corey, divorced wife of William E. Corey, Pittsburgh millionaire, has declined to return her son Prince Luis of Orleans, in the simple life he has taken up and therefore their wedding has been indefinitely postponed. The newspaper prints what it calls an exclusive interview obtained by its Paris correspondent in which the Infanta says:

"I bought my son a villa at San Remo and he is living there now very happily. He has taken to gardening. It is so much healthier for him than the night life he used to follow. But now Mrs. Corey says she won't live with him down there and she wants him to come to her chateau. He wants her to come to him. I don't know which will give way but I hope not my son."

There is also the question of the marriage settlement. They do not agree about that either. Mrs. Corey received $2,000,000 from her late husband. She told him she did not think this such a tremendous sum of money after all. "It is only about $3,500 monthly," she said. Mrs. Corey is very charming."

At this point the Infanta was said to have checked herself suddenly and to have left the sentence and interview unfinished.

his associates had a fair trial and that the punishments imposed were not excessive.

"We think," he said, "that the trial judge rightly held it unnecessary to allow or show actual contact between an operative of the detective agency and any juror, or that any juror had knowledge of being observed. The reasonable tendency of the acts done is the proper criterion. Neither actual effect produced upon the juror's mind nor his consciousness of extraneous influence was an essential element of the offense."

The facts are disclosed, and for which the defense counsellors were certainly responsible, tended to obstruct the honest and fair administration of justice, we cannot doubt. The jury is an essential instrumental, it—an appendage of the court, the body ordained to pass upon guilt or innocence. Exercise of calm and informed judgment by its members is essential to proper enforcement of law.

Jurors Resent Shadowing.

The most exemplary resent having their footsteps dogged by private detectives. All know the men who keep such an instrument of conscience lacking scruples, often will fully misrepresent innocent conduct and manufacture charges. The mere suspicion that he, his family, and friends are being subjected to surveillance by such persons is enough to destroy the equilibrium of the average juror and render impossible the exercise of calm judgment upon patient consideration.

If those fit for jury service understand that they may be freely subjected to trials like that which disclosed Justice McReynolds said, "They will either shun the burdens of the service or perform it with disquiet and disgust. Trial by capable jurists, in important cases, probably would become an impossibility. We can discover no reason for emasculating the power of courts to protect themselves against this odious thing."

The acts complained of were sufficiently near the court. Most of them were within the circumference or within the door of the courthouse or within the city. There was probably interference with an appendage of the court while in actual operation; the inevitable tendency was towards evil, the destruction, indeed, of trial by jury."

Lower Cost Ruling Upheld.

The Supreme court held that Justice Edmonds was right when he refused to hear evidence offered to prove that the government had shadowed juries in important cases.

This evidence was rightly excluded, he said. "The department is not a lawmaker and mistakes or violations of law by it give no license for wrongful conduct by others."

The evidence was made by the operatives employed by Sinclair. The detectives were taken to the court to see the jurors they were to follow and were instructed to follow them until they went to bed. After the first week the detectives concentrated on three of the jurors, Edward J. Kidwell, John P. Kern, and Norman L. Glascock. Kidwell was the juror who figured prominently in the "expose" as the man who expected to get an automobile "a week long."

In one case the detectives looked up a juror's real estate mortgage.

Veteran's Wife Kills Self with Gun He Used in War

Using a pistol carried by her husband in the world war, Mrs. Beatrice Coffman, 88 years old, 1218 Diversify parkway, committed suicide at her home last night by firing a bullet into her heart. Her body was found by her husband, W. P. Coleman, with whom she had failed to effect a reconciliation following a note which she left: "If I am found dead, you will know it is because I just could not stand the agony and the heartbreaks of living any longer."

HEAR CALDWELL IS READY TO QUIT IN TAX BILL FIGHT

School Chief Splits with Mayor's Advisers.

Reports that H. Wallace Caldwell will resign as president of the school board when the legislature adjourns were being discussed in school board circles yesterday. The reports followed news of a new split between Caldwell and the mayor's advisory committee over the board of education's action on taxation.

Members of the mayor's committee, in an executive session yesterday

noon, are understood to have demanded, as the price of their endorsement of the measure, that the school board president agree to an amendment drawn at the instance of the mayor's committee by Harris Keeler, head of the bureau of public efficiency, who has been making a survey of the financial condition of the schools.

Restriction on Expenditure.

The amendment restricts the total amount of money the board may realize from taxes, and sets up a revolving fund, to be maintained by the appropriation of a percentage of the boards' income.

The plan is that, in times of financial stress, the board may lend itself money from the fund.

The fund would be administered by the board of pardons and paroles, of which Hinton G. Clabaugh is chairman, revokes his parole. Jackson was before Judge John P. McGroarty of the Criminal court yesterday, but the judge indicated that he was powerless to prevent Jackson's release after serving four years in the penitentiary on two to 10 year sentences.

A search of the court records failed to show that the court sentence was read on consecutively. Judge McGroarty said he believed this was the intention of the late Judge Hoses Wells, who tried the second case against Jackson, but that in the absence of some record, he did not think he had jurisdiction. The hearing was continued until today to see if the clerk during Judge Wells' term had any memoranda on the sentence, but it was later discovered that the former clerk is in California.

Clabaugh refused to say whether the board would consider Jackson's failure to report promptly a violation of his parole.

Hoped Go Glimmering.

Word is reported to have reached

Caldwell from Springfield that the board's hope for immediate funds through house bill 633 may be lost in any event. If the bill is passed with the amendment, the school board's effort to raise funds by selling tax warrants under the 51 cent increase provided by the bill will be reduced by injunction suits, it is said.

The legislature is expected to take the restrictive amendment. Caldwell's position is that the governor will refuse to sign the bill, on the ground that the school board is not willing to cooperate in measures of economy.

President Caldwell, according to reports, believes these circumstances will make it impossible to reopen the schools in September, and it is upon these premises that he bases his determination to resign immediately following the adjournment of the legislature.

WOMAN ENDS LIFE BY GAS.

Mrs. Pauline Hennel, 25 years old, 2015

North Ashland avenue, took her life by inhaling gas in her home yesterday. Ill health was blamed.

BALDWIN TO QUIT TODAY; LABORITES READY TO MOVE IN

Tories Decide Not to Wait and Be "Kicked Out."

BY JOHN STEELE.

LONDON, June 3.—After a day of conference with members of the Conservative cabinet and leaders of the party Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin is expected to hand his resignation to King George at Windsor castle tomorrow. It is reported that the cabinet ministers tonight handed their resignations to Mr. Baldwin.

Thus the five year rule of the Conservative party will come to an end following the defeat at the general election last Thursday, and the victorious Labor party will be given a chance to form a cabinet and take up the many serious problems facing Great Britain.

The decision to resign and not wait to be kicked out of office was taken despite the efforts of Foreign Secretary Sir Austen Chamberlain and Chancellor of the Exchequer Winston Churchill to persuade Mr. Baldwin to reconstruct his cabinet and put the responsibility for turning him out on the Liberal party, which holds the balance of power in parliament. Mr. Baldwin's attitude is that it would be foolish and undignified to present a government which he knows he will have no chance to carry out just for the sake of three weeks more in office.

MacDonald Ready to Move In.

In the meantime Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the Labor party, is getting ready to move in to 10 Downing street. His daughter, Isabel, who acts as his hostess, is already packing up his personal belongings at their present home for removal to the official residence. Mr. MacDonald is saying nothing, but Philip Snowden, J. H. Thomas, Arthur Henderson and all other leaders of the Labor party confidently assert that they will be in office in a few days. The new parliament will meet on June 25.

Shortly after the departure of the ministers this evening it was announced at the foreign office that Sir Austen Chamberlain had cancelled his arrangements for attending the Madrid meetings of the League of nations council next week. Sir Austen is chairman of the preparatory committee on minorities, and he intended leaving for Spain tomorrow. This leaves the British government representation momentarily in the air, but it is possible the position may be changed in order to allow Mr. MacDonald's nominees to attend as soon as the Labor leader has seen the king. It, as an alternative, Great Britain may be nominally represented by a distinguished departmental expert, such as Sir Cecil Hurst.

What Will Lloyd George Do?

One chief point of interest now is what David Lloyd George will do and what will become of the Liberal party. The first probably depends on the second, for no one knows now if Mr. Lloyd George will have any party to lead in a few weeks.

The Asquith-Lloyd George feud, which split the party during the war, is still alive and has been fanned into fresh activity by Mr. Lloyd George's failure to bring liberalism back as a real force in British politics. In the hope that he might do so, the Asquith-Ians buried the hatchet for the late election, but now they are digging it up again, and it is likely that some of this wing may join the Conservatives. If this happens, a far larger number of Liberals will go to Labor, and the Liberal party in the house of commons may finally consist of the three Lloyd Georges—David and his two daughters, Megan and Gwilym.

May Form Pact with Labor.

However, it is entirely likely that Mr. Lloyd George will decide on a tacit agreement with Labor. He is not ready yet to declare his policy, and at his headquarters today it was said that he would not be for some days. The fact is, however, that there is a large number of members on which Labor and Liberals are agreed, such as relief for unemployment, road and railway development, farm relief, and possibly electoral reform.

Political groups are busy making a cabinet for Mr. MacDonald. Mr. Thomas and Mr. Henderson are still leading in the race for foreign office, although it has been suggested that Lord D'Abernon might be asked to take this post. The only certainty is that the new foreign chancellor of the exchequer, Justice Sankey, eminent high court judge, has been suggested as lord chancellor.

14 Women Elected.

LONDON, June 3.—(AP)—Miss Eleonore Rathbone, noted figure in the women's movement, was elected to parliament yesterday, defeating one of the two successful candidates for seats in the English combined universities. Her election brought the number of women members of the new parliament up to fourteen.

MERGER RUMORS AGAIN LINK BANK, TITLE & TRUST CO.

Continental Illinois Is Named in Gossip.

The Chicago financial district yesterday experienced a revival of rumors of a consolidation of the Continental Illinois Bank & Trust company and the Chicago Title & Trust company. It is no secret that there have been tentative conversations between directors of the two institutions several times in the last year or two, but they have not reached the stage of negotiations.

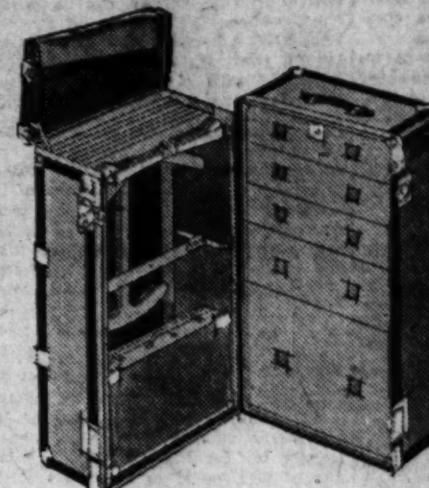

Arthur Reynolds, chairman of the Continental Illinois bank, was in New York yesterday, but other officials of the institution said there have been no negotiations between responsible officials of the bank and the Chicago Title and Trust company and a merger

ELEVATED FARE HEARING NEARS 1ST ANNIVERSARY

Lawyers and witnesses participating in the elevated fare injunction hearings before Master in Chancery Roswell B. Mason were reminded at the 56th hearing yesterday of the approach early in July, of the first anniversary of the beginning of the litigation. Through the hearings the elevated lines hope to persuade the federal courts to permit a sufficient valuation of its properties to make possible continuation of its collection of a straight 15 cent fare. Congressman Frank R. Reid, representing the city, is attempting to show that the elevated's claimed valuation is too high and that the lines are not justified in the higher fare.

L. R. Shattuck, valuation engineer, was present yesterday at the hearing and will again occupy the witness stand today. During the almost twelve month period that the hearings have been held the public has been paying the higher fare with no chance of a refund regardless of what decision the federal courts

3 Reasons For Tru-pe-dic Comfort

WHICH FOOT IS YOURS?

The Tru-pe-dic Shoe is the only shoe in the world made on the three fundamental lines—OUTLAW, STRAIGHT and CUFFLINK—corresponding to the three distinct types of normal feet.

Tru-pe-dic Shoes are the result of a world wide research of the American Posture League, an organization consisting of 1,000 foremost Scientists, Orthopedic Surgeons and Physical Trainers.

Tru-pe-dic Shoes are constructed to give quick relief to painful foot troubles brought about by misfitted shoes. The special constructed arch, combination last, cupped heel seat and many other exclusive and corrective Tru-pe-dic features help to restore the foot to its normal action.

Tru-pe-dic Shoes are tailored shoes; they are stylish in appearance; their comfort is rather felt, not seen.

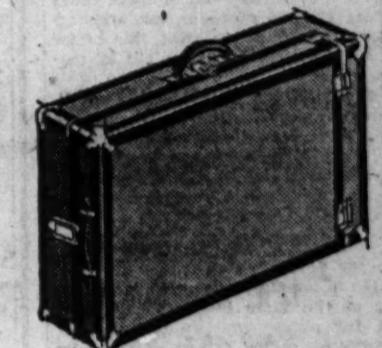

To overcome your foot troubles and for supreme comfort wear Tru-pe-dic Shoes.

TINKHAM TIES DISFRANCHISED NEGRO TO CENSUS

Promises Resolution for Poll of Dixie.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., June 3.—[Special.]—Negro disfranchisement in the South was injected today into the debate on the census and reapportionment bill in the house.

Representative John H. Tinkham (Rep., Mass.) told the house that he would offer an amendment tomorrow instructing the director of the census to ascertain the number of inhabitants in each state whose right to vote at the last election for President, members of congress or state officers has been denied or abridged, except for rebellion or other crime.

Waiver Amendment Enforced.

Representative Tinkham asserted that the ascertainment of any facts showing the disfranchisement of Negroes would compel a proportionate reduction in the representation of states affected in congress. Such reduction would be mandatory, he contended, under the clause of the fourteenth amendment providing for reduction in congressional representation in proportion to the disfranchisement of qualified voters.

Representative Tinkham, in addressing the house, declared that in keeping with President Hoover's insistence upon law observance it is the duty of congress to take steps for making effective the penalty clause of the fourteenth amendment.

The house devoted today to general debate on the combination bill authorizing the 1930 census and providing for automatic reapportionment in case congress fails to act on the legislation after any decennial census. Passage of the bill is expected either tomorrow or Wednesday. The senate passed the bill last week.

Differ on Alien Exclusion.

The debate made it evident that the principal fight will take place over exclusion of aliens from the population in the congressional apportionment.

Representative John E. Rankin (Dem., Miss.) and others from states severely affected by the reapportionment plan advocated in the house the alien exclusion amendment.

"The Supreme court will never go so far as to give representation to aliens in this body," said Mr. Rankin.

An amendment is favored by Republican leaders for the elimination of the senate bill provision requiring that census enumerators be selected under civil service rules.

ANNA L. SMITH, WELFARE CHIEF, HURT IN CRASH

HURT IN CRASH

Ald. Crowe Will Recover,
Physicians Say.

Mrs. Anna L. Smith, commissioner of public welfare for the city of Chicago and Democratic nominee was severely injured yesterday when the automobile in which she was riding with members of the Preston North End champion soccer team of England crashed into a light post at Garfield boulevard and South Park avenue. Three others in the party were slightly injured.

Two members of the soccer team Capt. W. Sharpless and George Bargh and Jack Perry, president of the Illinois Soccer Association, were cut and bruised. The soccer players were being conducted on a tour of the city by Mrs. Smith and were returning from the University of Chicago.

William Hollenback, 2402 North Clark street, who was driving, ran into the light post to avoid a collision with an automobile driven by Edward Middleton, 228 North La Salle street. The injured were taken to the Washington Park hospital.

Ald. Crowe to Recover.

Ald. Dorsey R. Crowe of the 42d ward, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident at Lake Forest on Sunday, will recover, physicians said yesterday at the Alice Hospital in Lake Forest. He will be unable to leave the hospital for several weeks.

Les Wargin, lightweight boxer of Milwaukee, was possibly fatally injured and all three of his companions were hurt when the automobile in which they were riding crashed into a telephone pole near Lake Forest in avoiding a collision with another car. The others injured are William Lewandowski, Casimir Wagner, and Frank Kotlarek, all of Milwaukee. They were en route to Chicago to witness the Cubs-Giants baseball game when the other automobile, driven by a woman who died, crossed their path.

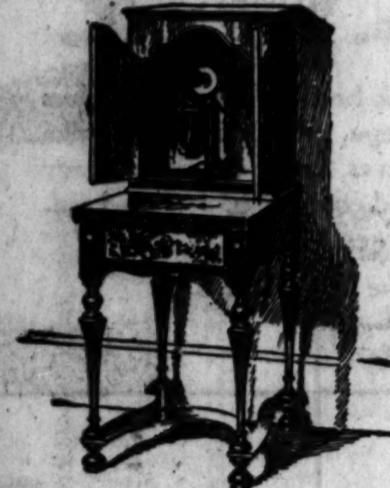

One Death in County.

One man in Cook county died yesterday, a victim: Frederick Unterberger, 13 years old, 5046 North Western avenue. Fatally injured when he was struck by an automobile while riding his bicycle at Argyle and Leavitt streets. The driver, Emil Ritchell, 55 years old, 1110 Cleveland street, Evanston, was held.

Edmund Smith, 2 years old, was killed in Plano, Ill., when he fell out of the automobile in which he was riding with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Smith of Aurora, when a door swung open.

George Murdick, 1 years old, was killed when he ran in front of an automobile while playing with companions in Gary, Ind.

GERMANY NAMES EXPERT TO SOLVE BELGIAN CLAIMS

Work Done, U. S. Experts to Sail Saturday.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] PARIS, June 3.—The last obstacle to the signing of the German reparations accord being in the process of being solved, Owen D. Young and the other American experts announced to-day that they are sailing for home board the Aquitania Saturday.

The Germans today climbed out of their tower of silence on the Belgian claims for the worthless marks that were forced on the little nation during the war and thus paved the way for a quick settlement of the dispute.

Dr. Heinrich Schacht, chief German delegate, spent the morning in earnest telephone conversation with Berlin and come forth with a letter to Mr. Young, who apparently had been talking to him like a Dutch uncle, promising immediate action and setting forth his government's willingness to let the new reparations plan, which is so advantageous to Germany, as compared to the Dawes schedule, be held up until the negotiations with Belgium are concluded.

Taking the position that they have not yet received the Young experts' report for a final settlement of German reparations, the French cabinet, after a long session this morning, it is understood, decided to give M. Briand no authority to make pledges, and

Agree to Agree.

The German delegate sprung a new one on the allied legal experts when he said he would be willing to enter an immediate "pactum de contrahendo" with the Belgians, which means "a firm agreement to reach an agreement." The negotiations will be directly between Germany and Belgium. He added that "in these negotiations should be concluded before the new reparations plan is put in force by the governments." Berlin, he added, has appointed Dr. Edwin Ritter, director of commercial affairs of the Wilhelmstrasse, to handle the German side of the argument. Dr. Ritter will leave for Paris immediately to begin the negotiations.

The French and Belgians, who have been insisting on a settlement of the marks question before the pact is signed, acted very gloomily today, but the rest of the experts pointed to Dr. Schacht's letter, which they said certainly was evidence of good faith.

Bulgarians Feel They Were Betrayed.

The Bulgarians are inclined to think tonight that the allied experts betrayed them. It is learned from good sources, however, that they realize they cannot delay the signing of the agreement longer. While the Belgians insist they entered the confab only on condition that a settlement of the marks claim be reached, the experts decided today that this would not exactly fit the invitation, which said "it would be a concurrent settlement."

The experts have held all along that the question was outside their mandate, but opined that "something ought" to be done, and the Belgian request for $5,950,000 yearly for 37 years was inserted into the allied annual figures of April 18 without looking into the merits of the question.

Stall on Evacuation.

Aristide Briand, French foreign minister, is leaving for Madrid tomorrow to attend the League of Nations council meeting next week without any mandate from his government to discuss the Rhineland evacuation, it is understood.

Taking the position that they have not yet received the Young experts' report for a final settlement of German reparations, the French cabinet, after a long session this morning, it is understood, decided to give M. Briand no authority to make pledges, and

Agree to Agree.

The German delegate sprung a new one on the allied legal experts when he said he would be willing to enter an immediate "pactum de contrahendo" with the Belgians, which

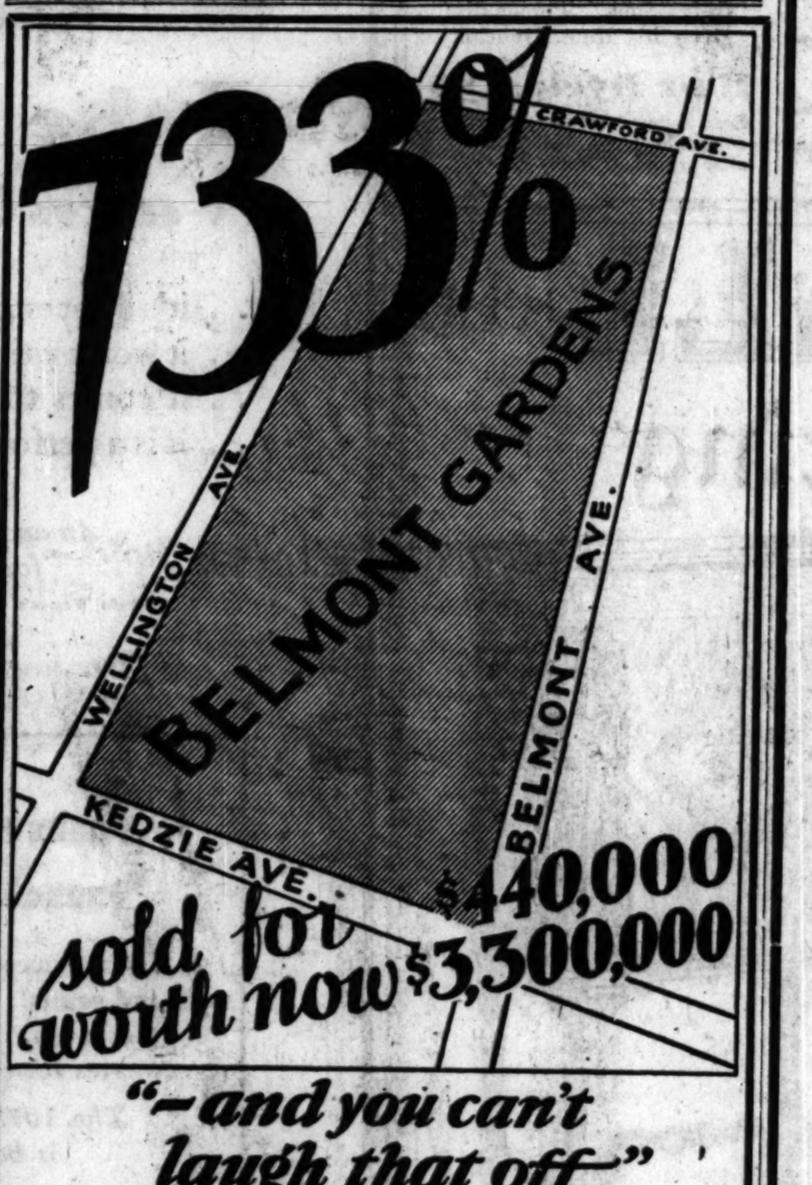

The suit was dropped a month ago after peace terms offered by an arbitration committee, named by Circuit Judge William V. Brothers, were accepted. The motion for reinstatement followed the filing of slander suits of $250,000 against Attorney Pio by each of the officers last week.

Judge Friend referred the motion to Chief Justice Michael Feinberg for reassignment.

Loyola U. Dental College

Will Graduate 168 Today

The college of dental surgery of Loyola university will hold its 47th annual commencement exercises today at 2 p. m. at the Garrick theater. There will be 168 in the graduating class, the largest in the history of the school. For having attained the highest scholastic rating for the year, Leonard Grimson of Milton, N. D.; Le Roy Kurth of Chicago; Francis Barnes of Oak Park, have been named as the valedictorian, prophet and class historian respectively. Dr. E. B. Fink will address the graduates.

THE territory pictured above is today one of Chicago's fine sections, with nice homes, progressive business areas, and the air of settled competence that marks a prosperous community. Yet it's not so many years ago that "wiseacres" laughed at Harmon salespeople who tried to sell them property in this section, then a prairie subdivision called "Belmont Gardens."

Today "Belmont Gardens" property has an official valuation (figured from Olcott's Blue Book) of $3,300,000. It was sold in 1913 for a total sum of $440,000. The increase was at the rate of 733%. Yet some campy folks insist that it's better to stick to 6% interest, because money at 6% doubles in twelve years.

Mr. E., who bought lot 30, block 6, in "Belmont Gardens," invested $590—today that property is worth $2,850—an increase of 383% in 16 years. At 6% Mr. E., in the same period of time, would have made less than half as much.

This example isn't just one exceptional case—it's a typical example, picked at random from the pages of our ledgers. Every piece of property in "Belmont Gardens" shows a substantial profit—and the fellow who sneered at Mr. E.'s poor judgment in "falling for" a real estate investment can't laugh off the profits that authentic records show.

Today the opportunities for profit from Harmon investments are as good—Chicago's growth and progress haven't stopped—the Harmon organization's ability to accurately forecast future developments hasn't been lost—and it is our sincere belief that in our Golden Anniversary year we'll still be able to claim, as we now do after 42 years' service, that "a thousand times in a thousand our customers' investments show profits."

LONDON, June 3.—The familiar sight of King George riding in Horseguards parade at the head of the royal procession for the annual ceremony of the trooping of the colors in honor of his birthday was missing when the monarch's 64th anniversary was celebrated today, but the thousands present listened all the more intently to the massed bands of the brigades of guards playing "God Save the King," as they pictured their ruler lying ill in Windsor castle.

Many Americans were in the crowd watching the colorful ceremony. The guards, in full uniform and with their great bearskin headgear, and attended by the massed military bands, passed in review before the duke of Connaught, the prince of Wales, the duke of York, and Viscount Lascelles.

Dominions Send Military Missions.

The growing independence of the British dominions was indicated today when, for the first time, their military representatives appeared in the procession the same as the military attaches of foreign nations. A cannon boomerang the noonday salute was heard as the colorful parade ended.

The country was cheered to hear that the king had passed a good night. At Windsor the ceremonies were quiet, but the fact that a salute of 21 guns was fired before the castle by the king's bombardier, who has performed this service for 28 years, while all the Windsor bells were rung, shows that his state is not critical.

The Windsor salute was fired from an ancient mortar which requires the employment of a taper fuse and powder horn.

U. S. Cruiser JOHN BROWN.

Hundreds of congratulatory messages arrived at the castle. Malta, Gibraltar, and other outposts of the British empire were celebrating, while at the naval ports all ships were dressed in flags, among them the American cruiser Raleigh, now at Plymouth, which joined the display in honor of the king.

Coolidge Injured Fishing;

Carries Wrist in Splint

Northampton, Mass., June 3.—(U.P.)

Former President Calvin Coolidge suffered a sprained left wrist while on a fishing trip Saturday, it was known today.

Dr. Edward W. Brown, who attended him, put the injured wrist in a splint. He said the injury appeared to be an ordinary sprain which soon would right itself.

Mr. Coolidge was said to have been injured when he fell.

Mount Vesuvius, which wiped out the Roman city of Pompeii nearly 2,000 years ago, again erupted this afternoon and again poured out a stream of molten lava.The eruption came suddenly from the base of a small cone on the southeast side of the crater and sent a boiling lava flow, nearly 40 feet in width, pouring into "Hell valley."The main eruptive cone inside the crater continued its normal activity.The new lava flow, which did not considered a threat to the archaeological treasures of the Pompeii excavations, since its main current is into "Hell valley."On the Pompeii side of Vesuvius modern dwellings have crept up the slopes of the great mountain.These with the Pompeii excavations might be threatened again, however, if the lava current is suddenly augmented by a flow from the big cone. Vesuvius was last in activeeruption in November, 1923, but quited down without causing anything graver than some disquiet to the neighboring population.Polish Alliance Sued for

BLAMES DRIES FOR FRICTION WITH CANADA

Fanatics Impairing Relations, La Guardia Says.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)
Washington, D. C., June 3.—[Special.]—Charges made by Representative F. H. La Guardia (Rep., N. Y.) that "dry fanatics" are impairing good relations between the United States and Canada stirred up another lively prohibition debate in the house today.

La Guardia asserted that spokesmen for the drys are creating friction and bad blood between the peoples of this country and Canada by blaming the Canadian government for this country's failure to enforce the prohibition laws. His reference was to critics who have asserted that Canada, by refusing to place an embargo on shipments of spirits to the United States, has made it impossible to stop liquor smuggling across the American border.

Scores U. S. Efforts.

The New York representative scored the American government for its persistent efforts to persuade Canada to prohibit liquor shipments to the United States.

"This is nothing," the New Yorker said, "but an attempt to convert Canada into enforcers of this country's prohibition laws. The people of this country have had presented to them but one side of the Canadian-American prohibition question."

From reports that have been sent out and from the speech of the Hon. Grant Hudson (Rep., Mich.) it would appear that Canada is not cooperating with the United States. That is not so. To the contrary, Canada has done more in helping the enforcement of prohibition in the United States than its government has been able to do.

Call It Confession of Weakness.

The present demands on Canada that the government aid in stopping the tremendous flood of liquor into the border is nothing more than a confession of weakness on the part of this government and an example of the complete failure of prohibition.

"Suppose that Canada had prohibition and we did not, and Canada asked the United States to change its laws to aid Canadian dry enforcement. If that were done every member of this house would be on his feet protesting about the American right."

Representative Carroll L. Beckey (Rep., Md.) questioned the statement that this country had asked Canada to change her laws to stop liquor exports to this country. La Guardia referred him to the report of the Ottawa conference between Canadian and American customs officials last January.

"This country," La Guardia said, "asked Canada to stop liquor clearing."

"The gentleman knows," interrupted Representative Grant Hudson (Rep., Mich.), "that this arrangement is in operation now with the British government."

"It is not," retorted La Guardia. "The source of the gentleman's information (evidently referring to the Anti-Saloon League) for which Hudson is a spokesman has always been cited. If Mr. Hudson will read the report of the Ottawa conference he will find he is mistaken."

Dawes to Leave Tomorrow on His Journey to London

Gen. Charles G. Dawes will leave Chicago tomorrow for Washington, where he will have his final conference with Secretary of State Stimson before sailing for London as the United States representative to the coronation of St. James. Accompanied by Mrs. Dawes, their daughter, Virginia, and his personal secretary and nephew, Henry Dawes of Columbus, O., Gen. Dawes will sail on the steamer Olympic Friday evening from New York.

HIGH FEES PAID TO DRY SNIPERS WHO KILLED BOY

First of Three Officers
Placed on Trial.

These boys were where they could easily have been seized, the officers followed them out into the country and then, as the state will contend, without any warning started firing at close range."

Boys' Car Riddled. The bullet that hit young Kendrick, according to Mr. Parks, was fired at a range of from 15 to 20 feet, and the car in which he was riding was being driven with bullet holes plowed through the top, sides and windshield, although the three dry enforcers insisted that the shots were directed at the tire.

Mr. Parks conceded that one of Kendrick's companions on the fatal ride had been convicted of Volstead violations and that another of the trio was recently convicted of drunkenness, but no evidence has been produced, he continued, to indicate that any of the boys had been drinking on the night young Kendrick was shot.

Attorney George Warren, associated with Emory Widener in the defense, said that Emory Widener had been injected with an element of mystery when, after admitting that Crowe fired the shot which killed Kendrick, he declared the defense expected to prove that the youth was not in the automobile when struck by the bullet.

Warren asserted in his opening statement that he had been drinking since subpensas were issued for the trial.

Judge Refuses Stay.

Postponement now would have meant that in response to complaints that Kendrick, Dutton, and Phelps were creating a disturbance, the two deputies and Pollock McReynolds started after the boys at about 10 o'clock at night.

Attacks "Yellow Journalism."

Warren asserted that prejudice is being created against the defendants by "yellow journalism."

"The defense expects to show," he said, "that these boys were not the saints they were made out to be, that two of them had been convicted of violating the prohibitory law, and Kendrick was under bond on charges of driving while intoxicated."

Phelps, he asserted twice had served jail terms for prohibition convictions. "Phelps," he added, "tried to run over the officers when they called on him to halt, because he was afraid he would again go to jail."

McReynolds, to whom the original complaint was made, requested Crowe and Worley to assist him in the arrest. Following the car through Abingdon, the officers caught up with the car driven by Phelps, just outside the town limits, and, according to Warren, forced it to the roadside. The officers leaped from their car and as they did so Phelps, the attorney declared, drove out into the highway again and sped away, ignoring commands to halt.

Immediately following the arraignment of Crowe, the defense attorneys moved for a continuance, pleading two essential witnesses, Robert Lloyd and Otis Smith, have disappeared since subpensas were issued for the trial.

Lloyd and Smith, local youths, are said to have been with Kendrick, Dutton and Phelps earlier in the evening of May 6 and the defense expected them to testify that all had been drinking.

Judge Refuses Stay.

Postponement now would have meant postponement until the fall term of court and Judge Buchanan, aware of the temper of the town people, which vented itself the day after McReynolds was killed in threats of lynching from the officers, denied the motion and began the selection of the jury. In Virginia the court conducts the examination of the veniremen, and having qualified a panel of 20, turns them over to counsel for the state and the defense. Without an opportunity to question at all, the state must permanently challenge four members of the panel, the defense an equal number, and the twelve remaining are sworn in.

Jury Hard to Get. The defense asserted that the trial of the necessary 20 was turned over to the lawyers. Present prospects are that Crowe's fate will be in the hands of the jury, which vented itself the day after McReynolds was killed in threats of lynching from the officers, denied the motion and began the selection of the jury. In Virginia the court conducts the examination of the veniremen, and having qualified a panel of 20, turns them over to counsel for the state and the defense. Anticipating the increasing danger of rabies with the approach of warm weather, Mrs. Charlotte L. Hunt, secretary of the Humane Education society, speaking at a meeting in the Palmer house yesterday, said it was imperative that the registration of dogs be rigidly enforced, and that better care be taken of the animals.

The society was notified by Commissioner of Police Russell that the police department would cooperate in enforcing the registration law. A city ordinance provides that all funds derived from the licensing of dogs in excess of $100,000 shall go toward the erection of a new dog pound to cost $125,000. The society has sponsored this fund.

It was estimated that Chicago's dog population is now in excess of 150,000 and that the low price of animals tends to increase the number of vagrant animals.

The society was notified by Commissioner of Police Russell that the police department would cooperate in enforcing the registration law. A city ordinance provides that all funds derived from the licensing of dogs in excess of $100,000 shall go toward the erection of a new dog pound to cost $125,000. The society has sponsored this fund.

It was estimated that Chicago's dog population is now in excess of 150,000 and that the low price of animals tends to increase the number of vagrant animals.

POLICE NEED OWN RADIO EQUIPMENT, COUNCILMENT TOLD

Committee Indicates It's for Russell Plan.

Radio broadcasting of police messages received the commendation of members of the city council finance committee yesterday when the aldermen argued the merits of a proposal to establish a private station for the police department. Police Commissioner Russell and ten radio experts attended the meeting to support the plan which they formulated after two months' study.

"We have demonstrated through WGN, THE TRIBUNE radio station, the advisability of having radio communication between police headquarters and the roving squad cars," said Commissioner Russell. "The use of WGN is an experiment, but it has been a great improvement over the haphazard method of relaying messages to the detectives touring their districts."

Some Greater Speed Possible.

"Instead of waiting an hour or more to mobilize police at the scenes of a crime, it is now possible to have them there in a minute or two. It takes about one hundred seconds now to relay the messages, but with our own station, we can get the information to the squad cars in twelve seconds."

The plan submitted to the aldermen called for the expenditure of $153,185 to cover a broadcasting station, equipment, cars, 100 Ford, 41 police stations and several headquarters offices with receiving equipment, and to maintain the system for one year. The annual cost to the city after the first year is estimated at $32,000. The aldermen took the request under advisement after indicating that they favor its passage.

"Approximately 60 per cent of the alarms broadcast are false," the commissioner said. "The same percentage of telephoned alarms were false before radio communication was established. We have caught already four persons who sent in fake radio alarms."

Low Wave Length Planned.

The broadcasting of crime messages has tended toward making a show and a spectacle of police work, the commissioner said. He explained that this will be eliminated when the police have their own station which will operate over a low wave length and will exclude the public from listening in.

In the year that the Detroit police have had radio communication, there has been a 27 per cent decrease in burglaries and a 16 per cent increase in convictions because many burglars are caught in the act. Lt. Kenneth R. Cox of Detroit told the aldermen. Eight police squad cars made 625 calls in an average of 47 seconds after the calls were received, he said.

The committee, on the joint motion of Al. James R. Bowler [55th] and Al. George V. Nelson [46th], extended a vote of thanks to THE TRIBUNE for the use of WGN and to the ten radio experts.

RUSSIAN DICTATOR PARDONS EXILED POLITICAL FOES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]
RIGA, Latvia, June 3.—A special decree issued by the political bureau of the communist party, the most important political body in Russia, which is controlled by Dimitrov, has been issued, permitting leaders of the right and left opposition banished during the last 18 months to Siberia to return to Moscow on the condition that they do not meddle in politics. The decree states that it does not apply to Leon Trotsky who is in Constantinople.

The bureau also returned to the post of Commissar Gregory Zinoviev his former post as commissar of the Leningrad government. Lev Kamenev was appointed head of a native of Moscow, and Nikolai Bukharin, ousted as commissar, has been appointed a member of the supreme council of national economy.

The action of the dictator in restoring his enemies to important posts may be regarded as an act of amnesty following the decisive victory of the communists in the last two months at various congresses in Moscow placing the economic development of Russia on a five year basis.

a Unique and Different Banking Atmosphere

THERE is something truly unique in the atmosphere of friendly service at The Foreman National Bank and The Foreman Trust And Savings Bank.

You sense it first in the willingness of our officers to meet you without ceremony—and chat with you as one human being to another.

You feel there's a difference as you note the complete absence of closed doors—a lifelong policy to foster friendly business relations between our officers and our patrons.

You are made to feel that your patronage is something we value—your friendship, something we respect.

And you feel at home. Which to our way of thinking, is the real secret of any pleasant business relationship.

These are the characteristics—not of any one department or individual—but of the institution as a whole. They are responsible for our growth in resources in the past twenty years from less than 10 millions to more than 125 millions without the aid of consolidation.

They are characteristics that give deep meaning to the words "A Big Bank With A Warm Welcome."

ACTION TO CURB BRIDGE NUISANCE PUT UP TO CITY

U. S. Willing to Listen to Plea, Council Told.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The door has not been closed on a revision of the hours of closed bridges in Chicago. The federal government has not yet taken a stand on a suggestion in the hours. That is the official word of the government's representative in Chicago, Col. W. C. Weeks of the United States engineers.

With this information in hand yesterday, there was a revival of interest in the frequent opening of bridges which has placed a damage on street traffic to the extent of an estimated $192,000 annually. Ald. Guy Guernsey [16th], chairman of the council committee on harbors, wharves and bridges, called a meeting of his committee for tomorrow to consider the subject.

Aldermen Urge Action.

Ald. William Rowan (10th) presented an ordinance to the council which seeks to close bridges between 6 o'clock in the morning and 4 at night. Ald. John Toman [28th] made a plea that his proposed ordinance to close the bridges between 6 in the morning and 10 at night be considered at once. There is also pending before the committee a proposed ordinance to lengthen the closed bridge hours in the morning and afternoon and also to keep the spans closed for the hour between noon and 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

The one which raised the interest in the subject is a letter from Col Weeks to Mr. Guernsey, which the alderman exhibited to several members of his committee yesterday. The letter shows that Col. Weeks' attitude has been misinterpreted, and that the city may get relief from frequent bridge openings

SCHOOL ENROLLMENT IN THE COUNTY SHOWS GAIN OF 5,000 A YEAR

The enrollment of county schools outside of Chicago has increased 27 per cent since 1924. County Superintendent of Schools Edward J. Tobin announced yesterday. The increase is noted in the superintendent's report to State Director of Education Francis C. Blair.

In 1924 there were 77,351 grade and high school pupils in the 260 county school districts. This year the number is 86,980 or 20,719 more. The increase is average 5,000 a year. Of the present enrollment 78,019 are in grade schools and 20,970 in high schools.

Mr. Tobin attributed the greater portion of the increase to the suburban movement.

If a convincing showing is made for it, the colonel not only encourages, but suggests, that the city decide what it desires and submit facts and arguments to support its case.

Gives City Encouragement.

"In part 1, page 8 of THE CHICAGO SUNDAY TRIBUNE, May 25, a news item appeared under the caption, 'U. S. Denies City Plan of Reducing Bridge Hours,'" writes Col. Weeks.

"In the closing paragraph of this item, it was stated that the committee will submit to the government's request, without any further fight!"

Col. Weeks then says that is the wrong position for the city to take and that an incorrect view has been taken of his attitude. His letter goes on:

"It is not believed the city, through its committees on harbors, wharves, and bridges, should be called to place an appeal for what is considered necessary in bridge closed hours before the final authority, the war department.

The government has made no request. The statement in my letter of May 14 that 'it is not believed the department would look with favor on any further increase in bridge closed hours' means just what it says and more.

Not an Ultimatum.

"It must not be considered in the light of a ruling or ultimatum. It is the basis of

was intended to indicate to the committee my belief in the necessity of extreme conservatism in any request made for longer bridge closed hours which could be hoped would receive favorable consideration."

That the aldermen may know how to perform their task, Col. Weeks continues:

"In order that the situation may be fully understood by your committee and others concerned, and that your proposal for longer bridge hours duration may receive fullest consideration by the department at Washington, it is suggested that you formulate your proposed ordinance in such form as may be acceptable to your committee."

"It was always my understanding that this was the procedure which would be followed. You may recall that this plan was presented to your committee on last Dec. 12. The ordinance as passed should be forwarded to the war department through the district engineer, Chicago, with request for approval. If approved or modified by the department, the provisions of the ordinance could then be made effective by the city."

Suggests Shifting Hours.

In his letter of May 14 Col. Weeks told the aldermen that the bridge hours on the first section of the river and branches did not fit with the movement of traffic. He then suggested that the hours be "shifted in Zones 2 and 3 to synchronize better with the requirements of others concerned."

Some of the aldermen said yesterday that they believe, after reading Col. Weeks' letter, that he is not antagonistic and desires to be fair. One of them went further and surmised that he would be favorable, if a showing of merit were presented to him, to reasonable lengthening of closed bridge hours.

Engineers of the war department have indicated that they would not vigorously oppose fixed bridges in Chicago if the city showed a serious intention to provide harbor facilities to take the place of those in the river.

City Lacks Harbor Plan.

"Our chief difficulty is that we have no harbor plan," said Ald. Guernsey. "The city administration has shown no inclination to obtain one in the last two years, although the report of Maj. R. W. Putnam and recommendations were presented that long ago. If we had a program I think the government would look upon our difficulties from frequent bridge openings with more sympathy. Possibly the government officials think that we, by our neglect to formulate a harbor plan, are not concerned with encouraging waterborne commerce."

"You know as well as anybody," said another alderman, who asked that he be not placed in the position of criticizing the city administration, "that Mayor Thompson dislikes Maj. Putnam. The major formulated the harbor report of the Commercial club which cost $50,000 or $60,000. Probably that is the reason why the city administration hasn't considered a harbor plan." Maj. Putnam, Guernsey says, gives an unfavorable impression of Chicago to the war department. I believe now that we can get some reasonable concessions on bridge closing hours if we show the damage which is being done to street traffic."

Asks Accounting from Loan Concerns for $150,000 Fund

A bill for an accounting, filed in the Superior court yesterday, charges officials of the Liberty Loan and Mortgage company, 2309 Roosevelt road, with converting $150,000 paid by subscribers for their own uses. The suit is brought by Miss Goldie Narenzky, who claims to have lost $1,400.

Spencer, Ind., June 3.—(Special)—

Serious charges are contained in a court petition filed today by Loren W. Thomas, seeking full custody of his children.

The charges are directed at Thomas' former wife, Blanche, who obtained a divorce in March. They involve the deaths of two of her relatives and the illness of another.

One charge is that when the oldest child, Ralph, aged 7, returned from a visit to his mother at Goshen, Ind., he was suffering from severe headache and pains." The petition adds that chemical analysis by the Akimkin laboratories of Indianapolis showed the presence of salt of tin, a deadly poison.

The petition says that Mrs. Thomas, formerly a student of chemistry at St. Mary's of the Woods, "is believed to understand the nature of poison and how to administer the same."

Wanda, Father's Death Shifted.

The petition then proceeds to say that previous to his death, Charles Thomas, the father of Mr. Thomas, showed symptoms similar to those of the child.

After Mr. Thomas' death, the document declares, samples taken from the cistern at his home were sent to the bureau of laboratories in Chicago, where examination show they contained traces of phenol and phenol derivatives."

The petition asks that the body of Mr. Thomas be exhumed and an examination by the coroner be made.

During the illness of the elder Thomas, the petition said, his daughter

AVIATION NOTES

An aerial bombardment of Grant Park will be staged tonight, at 9:30 by the Freed Radio company. The bombardment is planned to impress on the delegates to the national radio show the necessity for combined effort by the whole industry to develop radio air defense equipment, Joseph D. R. Freed said yesterday. The planes will maneuver in front of the Stevens, Blackstone, and Congress hotels, where the radio men are holding their meetings.

Air Investors, Inc., has nearly completed negotiations to acquire control of the Tri-City airport at Rockford, Illinois, a development corporation which yesterday from Detroit on their flight from Los Angeles to Sydney, Australia, made the longest overland nonstop flight ever made in North America.

Williams, president of the company, is being tested for a transatlantic flight. The men landed at the tri-cities Sunday night after a trip from El Paso, Tex.

MILAN, Italy, June 3.—(UPI)—Final tests for the motors of the Caproni plane in which the Polish aviators, Adamowicz and Klim, hope to fly from Milan to Dublin and thence to Chicago are being made. The aviators believe they will be ready to take off at the end of the week.

Lieut. Eric Nelson, round the world flyer, who is now sales manager for the Boeing Air Transport company, flew into Chicago yesterday from Seattle, Wash.

ORLY, France, June 3.—(UPI)—Two French aviators, Capt. Courdouret and Count de Mailly-Nesle, left Orly air-drome today for Seville, Spain. They plan a nonstop flight from Seville to New York in their plane France.

MEXICO CITY, June 3.—(UPI)—Capt. Carlos Pinillos and Lieut. Carlos Zegarra, the Peruvian good will flyers, landed at Valbuena field at 6:11 p. m. yesterday after a flight from New Orleans. They are en route from Washington to Lima. Their Bellanca monoplane left New Orleans at 5:35 a. m. central standard time.

Rogers Brushing Lacquer Leads the World

Here are the reasons:

BEFORE it was placed on the market, years of intensive scientific research were devoted to perfecting it.

Thousands of experiments were made and 1183 different formulas developed and tested in order to arrive at the perfection which has made Rogers Brushing Lacquer world famous.

Constantly Improved

Although an amazing success from the very beginning, our scientists have continued their search for further perfection. Improvement has followed improvement at the rate of one every 63 days—14 to date.

New refinements have added easier brushing and leveling out qualities, increased durability, a more uniform gloss and deeper, more permanent colors. And now, a pleasant new odor!

These and many more improvements continue to hold "Rogers" in a class by itself.

Back of "Rogers" quality are the accumulated scientific and technical experience as well as the vast manufacturing resources of the world's most powerful group of paint makers.

SOLD UNDER MONEY-BACK GUARANTY

The standard of perfection—Rogers brushing lacquer, with remarkable covering qualities. Easily applied. Dries while you wait to a smooth, glossy, almost indestructible finish, without laps, streaks or brush marks. Will not lift the undercoat. Choose of 26 beautiful colors.

Sports Coats and Frocks Lead the March On Summer

$18.50 and $27.50

A coat of basket weave uses a braided band of self material to finish its cardigan front and slenderizing tucks to make its back equally smart. In white and all pastel shades, it is only $18.50.

Fagoting trims the neckline and square armholes of the sleeveless frock of silk crepe in white, eggshell and all pastel shades. $18.50.

Basket weave likewise (though of lighter texture) forms the embroidered coat which accompanies the sleeveless white silk frock at the far right. $27.50.

Prints Display Endless Variety in Moderate Price Frocks

$19.50

In the ensemble at the left, they run to small, bright patterns that show up with pleasant contrast under slim coats of navy, brown or black silk crepe. Skirts are pleated in a low line. Sizes 14 years to "42." $19.50.

And at the right the print is one of the highly favored polka dots whose smartness continues undisputed in the realm of the freshly tailored frock. Fine pleating lends to this one a soft graciousness of line. The sizes run from 14 years to "44." $19.50.

THE SCHOOL TAX
AMENDMENTS.

A bill to add $35,000,000 in taxes to the income of the board of education over the next two years has passed the house at Springfield and is about to be considered on second reading in the senate.

Some members of the house who voted for the bill were stampeded by the statement that without this additional tax the schools would have to close for lack of money to pay salaries after Christmas. Other members fell in with a log rolling scheme to increase taxes all around for the benefit of the various political factions which control the tax spending bodies of Cook county.

A good many taxpayers will be disposed to say that if the schools have to close because of the bad management and extravagance of the school board the community will gain more than it will lose. A closing of the schools might entail some loss to the children, but it would serve mightily to awaken this community to the quality of its public officials.

Observers at Springfield report that whether it would be salutary or not the experiment is not likely to be tried, but that instead the senate will attach certain amendments to the school tax bill for the purpose of safeguarding it. The amendments were drafted by Mr. Harris Keefer of the Bureau of Public Efficiency. They have two principal objectives: the ending of the immediate financial crisis and the prevention of similar crises in future. The amendments provide, among other matters, that the board of education must make a budget which will correspond to its income. They also set up a cash working fund by the operation of which it is calculated that the school board will be able eventually to avoid the necessity of borrowing in anticipation of taxes. The practice of borrowing was started in 1915 and in 14 years has grown to such an extent that the school board now in $30,000,000 in debt and its bill for interest alone, in 1929, will be $1,600,000.

The adoption of the proposed amendments to the house bill are the least that the legislature can do for the taxpayers in return for the heavy additional burden which is placed upon them.

THE BRITISH ELECTIONS.

At this writing the returns from the British elections, virtually complete, give the Labor party 223 seats, the Conservatives 225, and the Liberals 57. The Conservatives gained three new seats and lost 14. Labor lost four seats and gained 180. In the popular vote the Conservatives lead with 5,505,000. Labor polled 8,892,000, and the Liberals 5,175,000. When this vote was converted into representation the Liberal got the bad end of it and Labor the best.

As the result of the election it is expected that Ramsay MacDonald again will be prime minister upon much the same terms as he was before, the head of a government precariously or expeditiously depending on support given by another party. The Conservative government was not overwhelmed in a three party contest (there were also Independents and Communists, 360,000 votes in all) and with such a division might have preserved itself if it had used a little more political soundness and shrewdness.

Mr. Baldwin and his associates in government exposed themselves to the defeat which they received. They had their own part in convincing the British that they have been treated in bad faith, that their own sense of honor has been used against them, and that their singular nobility in the last fifteen years has cost them their pre-eminence, their comfort, prosperity and security.

The British electorate has been encouraged to nurse a sense of injury. It was strange folly for a government which had in it politically responsible to permit the development of the creed that the average Englishman is suffering because of his moral superiority and because of the unscrupulousness of other people, particularly of Americans. He hasn't been forced to concede that Great Britain came out of the war with everything for which it fought and that the explanation of internal infelicities had to be sought at home and not abroad.

If other people were doing Great Britain injury the Baldwin government had to be responsible for it and for some curious reason that government encouraged the idea that that country, the British workman and the British taxpayers were the victims of international injustice which self-seeking nations had imposed on them. The belief has been promoted that the British taxpayers are paying the American taxpayers' bills.

Mr. Baldwin might have done much better with the truth, insisting on the fact of a million square miles of new imperial territory, insisting that this was an asset and not a liability, making it plain that Great Britain is collecting debts as well as paying them, pointing to the handicaps imposed on its feared rival, Germany, to the disappearance of the German navy and the menace which was so disturbing before 1914. The virtual disavowal of this, the disowning of actual accomplishment in the assumption of moral but unhappy sacrifices, promoted petulance, created ill feeling, obscured the causes of internal discontents and hardships and made the Conservative party appear both incompetent and indifferent.

THE WEST SIDE
SUPERHIGHWAY.

Gov. Emmerson now has the bill authorizing a referendum among voters in the west park district or the west side superhighway project. We are confident that the governor realizes the importance of the elevated highway as a measure for promoting the welfare of a neglected section of Chicago and as an urgent traffic necessity for the entire city. If he has any doubts on the subject he should resolve them in favor of the project, for his decision is not final. The people who would pay for the improvement have the veto power in the referendum on the bond issue. Therefore by signing the bill Mr. Emmerson will merely send the proposal to a vote.

The enabling legislation does not specify a route for the elevated boulevard from the Chicago river to the west city limits. That is a choice for engineers and city planners in the event that the bill is signed by the governor and the bond issue approved by the voters. The measure was prepared in recognition of the fact that the west side is inadequately accessible to motorists and that the only proper relief is an uninterrupted, two level, through artery. The exact route is relatively unimportant.

Criticism of the west side highway plan on the theory that it is too pretentious a program is not justified. To the north and to the south a single level boulevard is adequate because of the scarcity of intersections. However, to get the same measure of convenience on the west side the plan must avoid the intersections which obstruct traffic on the present narrow boulevards. The elevated superhighway is the correct solution of the west side problems and we are sure that Mr. Emmerson will allow the west side voters to express an opinion on it.

Meanwhile ground was broken last week for New York's new superhighway, which will be finished in two years.

MEET MR. PEABODY.

Mr. Peabody of Massachusetts broke upon the attention of the English public with a column in the London Sunday Chronicle calling it his own country a cruel, harsh extorter of money. I say without reserve that we have no moral right to a farthing from Great Britain."

Mr. Peabody is scratching his way into Westminster with the doctrine that the British, French, and Italians died to save the United States. He is a counselor at law of Ashburnham, Mass., a member of the bar of New York, Massachusetts, and California. He is managing director of the American Association Favoring Reconsideration of the War Debts, Inc., with national headquarters in Ashburnham, Mass. This organization reeks with dignity, sentiment, equity, justice, and buncombe. Mr. Peabody has gathered together a group of ancient names of bishops and first citizens, college presidents, and other adult men, counselors at law, and professional leading citizens. They form the personnel of the advisory council.

Mr. Peabody has retained himself and these advisers for the revision of the debt settlements upon the theory that the United States and Germany started the world by going to war. When this calamity had befallen the human race, France, Great Britain, Belgium, and Italy offered battlefields for it and kept the American end going from August, 1914, until some time in late 1918, when American troops entered all appearance and the struggle came to an end, leaving the innocent bystanders badly hurt and much out of pocket. The United States, which had shirked its war shamelessly, is now collecting from its sacrificed friends the debts they incurred in buying the materials for this war in the United States.

If Mr. Peabody's facts are correct, his conclusions do him and his associate advisers credit. His college presidents evidently have repudiated their own historical research men who have decided that France, Great Britain, and Russia were quite as responsible as Germany in bringing that war about.

It is not implied herewith that Mr. Peabody and associates are newly arrived upon the scene with an idea. It is quite the contrary, which makes the Ashburnham counselor at law worthy of mention. He has been at it for years. His correspondence is prodigious. He impounds the President and forever pops out upon the populace. He is repetitious and untried. He is inky and energetically scandalized.

If Counselor Peabody does not get something in Westminster they may throw the place away. If there is a way of getting off his mailing list this Transcriber would like to find it. The Egyptians did not know what a plague could be.

IOWA'S EXPULSION.

[Sioux City (Ia.) Journal]

The expulsion of the University of Iowa from the Western conference, or Big Ten in intercollegiate athletic activities is a blow at athletics in the state that will be felt with increasing humiliation at the university. The action taken in Chicago by the faculty committee was based on the alleged subsidizing of students at Iowa City. Hot denial of the charges already have been made and more are expected to follow. Recruiting students for football, contributions of cash to their tuition, living expense or whatever all have been denied at Iowa City, and there is a hope that further investigation of the conditions will result in Iowa being given reinstatement in the Big Ten.

Sportsmanship, however, would demand even justice either way. If Iowa failed to live up to the rules governing the Western conference, then the rebuke is deserved, and loyal Iowans, even alumni, will not waste sympathy on the university that has failed in sportsmanship. Box office enthusiasm more than mere pride in victory is fully capable of developing the condition with which the University of Iowa has been charged. Football has been menaced in recent years by a dangerous commercial interest manifested in intercollegiate sports. It is the hope that Iowa may be able to disprove the charges and win a reversal of the faculty decision, but if the guilt is there the punishment is richly deserved. Let intercollegiate sports be kept clean and refreshing.

SHELLFISH ON THE COAST.

CALIFORNIANS should not eat mussels taken from the open sea south of San Francisco during the months from May to October, inclusive. These shellfish are safe enough between November 1 and May 1. About 100,000,000 eggs are laid by these mussels every year. The symptoms of the disorder were tingling of the lips, tongue and gums, cutting on within a half hour after eating the shellfish. This was followed by numbness and prickling, beginning in the fingers and extending up the limbs to the body. Paralysis or near paralysis was the next stage. A few died.

A somewhat extensive investigation was made by Dr. W. F. Meyers and associates to discover the cause of this outbreak.

It was found that the mussels eaten came from four different beds.

The cause of the trouble was not baterial but was some chemical existing in the body of the fish themselves.

The liver was the most poisonous part of the shellfish. Nor was poisoning due to death and decay of the fish. In most of the specimens the fish were fresh and sounded normally, appeared sound and healthy, and were free from odor. Some of the specimens later examined were found to have started small and then but this was found not to be due to decomposition and to have no direct relation to the poisonous qualities. In all of this the evidence was similar to that found in some of the European cases.

So far, everything was negative. The mussels were poisonous, but why?

The next step was the discovery that the mussels were not up with spawning.

When the shellfish were eaten they were poisonous. When they were not spawning, when they were sexually inactive, they could be eaten with safety.

Some laboratory questions remain to be settled, but meanwhile the consumer has the information he needs. In the months in the name of which the letter "P" appears mussels may be eaten. Others may be exceptions to all rules.

The exception here is that mussels should not be eaten during September and October. Incidentally, it is safer to eat oysters during the same period—w. September and October—through for a far different reason.

STONING IN THE KIDNEY.

E. L. writes: Is stone in the kidney dangerous? My first attack, six years ago, was so severe it brought on pneumonia. Is this liable to happen again? My next and last attack occurred a month ago and lasted about four hours, and was not as severe as the first. Today I noticed considerable blood in the urine.

Would you write a few words on this subject? I am nearing 70 years of age and am in perfect health.

REPLY.

There is some danger, though probably less than you think. The danger is that your kidneys may stop work or they may be badly damaged. There is also danger of infection.

To prevent attacks, drink no alcoholic beverages. Live on a simple diet, preferably one that produces an alkali ash, drink abundantly of very plain water, preferably distilled.

As soon as a stone or calculi of the urine may point the way to the diet for you.

To relieve an attack, sit in a tub of warm water and take such sedatives as your physician directs.

A FREQUENT DISORDER.

Mrs. L. P. writes: My six weeks old baby has a prolapse of the bowel when he strains to have a bowel movement. Did you ever hear of such a thing?

REPLY.

In this is a frequently encountered disorder. It is a little common than yours. You physician or nurse will show you how to return the prolapse. Overcome constipation by giving milk of magnesia and by using simple enemas. Prevent straining.

DRINKING OF RAW MILK.

S. E. writes: What are the dangers or diseases caused by the use of unpasteurized milk?

REPLY.

Drinking raw milk subjects a person to some hazards. Among these are diarrhea of infancy, tuberculosis, typhoid, septic sore throat, scarlet fever, diphtheria, and possibly infantile paralysis.

It is recommended that raw milk be pasteurized.

OPEN NATIONAL ORIGINS BATTLE ON SENATE FLOOR

Predict First Test Vote on Repeal Tomorrow.

Chicago Tribune Press Service] Washington, D. C., June 2.—[Special.]—The controversy over national origins immigration quotas today reached the floor of the senate. Senator Gerald P. Nye (Rep., N.D.) obtained the right of way for his resolution for the discharge of the committee on immigration from further consideration of a bill for the revision of the national origins clause in the immigration act. The North Dakota senator opened the discussion with an argument against the national origins system which unless modified by congress will become effective on July 1 by proclamation of President Hoover.

Reed Not to Filibuster.

By agreement between Senator Nye and Senator David A. Reed (Rep., Pa.), leading advocate of the national origins system, Nye's motion did not come to a vote before Wednesday. Senator Reed indicated that he desired to discuss it at some length tomorrow but that he would not filibuster against it.

In case the Nye resolution is adopted at least two additional roll calls are likely. This will mean an extended fight which may develop into a filibuster if repeal of the present law becomes a possibility. Approval of the Nye resolution would indefinitely postpone the repeal bill from the committee and place it on the calendar of the senate. There must then be a motion to make consideration of the repeal bill the order of business. After adoption of this motion, the vote will come on passage of the bill.

Court 45 Against Repeal.

Outcome of the controversy is uncertain. Advocates of the national origins system believe that as many as 45 senators can be counted on definitely to oppose repeal. Those favoring repeal have pledges for 40 or 41 votes and think that they may get as many as 55. Forty-nine votes make a majority of the senate, so that the action of the unpledged senators will decide the result. The impression prevails that the movement for the repeal of the national origins clause will fail at some stage of the proceedings even if the Nye resolution is adopted.

If a bill repealing the national origins clause is passed by the senate it will be given prompt consideration in the house, where its passage is likely. Unless the senate acts, however, the house will not take up the matter.

The American Legion and various patriotic societies are defending the national origins system, while the racial groups whose quotas would be greatly reduced, chiefly the Irish, Germans, and Scandinavians, are active for repeal.

"WRIT" DIPLOMAS AWARDED TO SIXTY AT DES MOINES U.

Des Moines, Ia., June 2.—[U.P.]—Sixty members of the senior class of Des Moines university today received "injunction diplomas" at the commencement exercises held under an order of the District court forbidding interference by the board of trustees.

Many of the students were among those who rioted on the campus last month breaking windows with a barrage of eggs and bricks in protesting the dismissal of Dr. Harry C. Wayman, president, and the entire faculty, by the board of trustees.

The "injunction diplomas" were prepared hastily to replace those that disappeared from the home of George Newcombe, business manager of the school, last week.

Dean E. C. Callaway of the College of Pharmacy, who signed the degrees in place of Dr. T. T. Shields, chairman of the board, assured the students they would receive their credits for the year's work.

Dr. Shields, his secretary, Miss Edith Rebman, and E. A. Roberts of Cleveland, another trustee, did not attend the exercises.

The discharged president, in addressing the students today, made several witty remarks at Dr. Shields and other members of the board.

After the degrees had been distributed, Dr. Wayman made his parting remarks, advising the students to go through life looking for the best and not for dirt and trouble.

Mrs. Carrie Edward, 59 years old, a hairless widow with two children, discovered yesterday in Judge G. Fred Rush's Criminal court why John W. Wermes, 49 years old, 343 East 26th street, could not make good on his promise to marry her. Wermes' wife and his two children were in court to plead for his release.

Wermes told Mrs. Edward that if he could get enough money to purchase a tractor he would receive a compensation of $180 per day from the savings district for work on the farm. She loaned him $1,485.

Police under Capt. Daniel Gilbert of the West Chicago avenue station last night were investigating the robbery of the Perfection Clothing company at 1250 North Paulina street in which $4 overcoats and 34 bolts of material, valued at $10,000, were stolen. Two bandits forced the six employees of Jacob Singer, the owner, to lie on the floor while being tied with wire ripped from the telephone. The bandits then went to the fourth floor of the building and picked the goods wanted.

PARIS MAIL-ROW SPREADS AS 8,000 CARRIERS STRIKE

PARIS, June 3.—Eight thousand letter carriers tonight voted for a 24 hour general strike in Paris tomorrow. This comes as a sequel to the government's action in putting on 500 police to replace 191 suspended second class mail carrier distributors. They made a greater success in holding up everything than they did in getting the accumulated magazines and newspapers delivered.

The 191 mailmen were suspended for going on strike for a raise in pay from $30 to $36 a month.

When the government demanded that the carriers whose weekly holiday falls on Monday work today to replace the suspended strikers the men refused and the government was forced to call on the policemen. The various organizations in all the branches of the postal service then issued an ultimatum: either the suspended men be reinstated or everybody's pay raised or else a general strike would be called.

The apparent cause of the postal revolt is the government's action in docking everybody a dollar last Thursday, but this was merely the straw which broke the camel's back. At present the novice gets only $320 a year, while the highest paid carriers pull down no more than $450 a year.

A minimum salary of $480 is asked for.

Go to the owner of a new All-American for the facts about this car

The Cabriolet, $165 • Body by Fisher
Sport equipment extra

IF YOU want to know the real facts about the New Oakland All-American . . . and who doesn't, now that it is gaining such a name for style, performance and dependability . . . go to someone who owns one. Let him tell you what he thinks of the car.

Ask him how it rides, for example. And he will start by telling you about the wealth of leg room and head room which its Fisher bodies provide. About the freedom from sideswings at fifteen or fifty . . . because its weight is so evenly distributed over its sturdy frame. About the comfort afforded by its Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers . . . by springs which are kept lubricated and free from dust by neatly tailored spring covers.

Ask him about its performance . . . and he may boast of its power, pick-up and speed. But if he's an experienced owner he's more apt to tell you about its smoothness and silence . . . about the thermostatically-controlled cross-flow radiator which keeps the engine at correct operating temperature constantly . . . about the Harmonic Balancer which counters crankshaft vibration . . . about its new internal four-wheel brakes which are noiseless and efficient in any weather . . . about the quick, courteous attention which he receives at our service station when he comes in for an adjustment of any kind.

In addition to talking with one or more owners . . . come in for the special demonstration which we have arranged. Let us show you . . . by going over the chassis with you and by an enlightening half-hour ride . . . what complete motoring satisfaction the New Oakland All-American holds for you.

Prices $1145 to $1375, f. o. b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Spring covers and Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers included in list price. Bumpers and rear fender guards extra. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

COUNCIL PLANS TO CUT EXPERT'S FEES ON SUBWAY

Would Use Previous Data
as Basis of Project.

The city council yesterday took its first step toward reducing to a minimum the payment of large expert fees by compiling data as a basis for the actual construction of a subway by using data accumulated since 1900 in surveys of Chicago's transit problem. The step was taken in the adoption of a resolution introduced by Arthur F. (Bud) Arnold, calling attention specifically to the subway plan prepared in 1926 by a commission headed by Gordon Strong and Russell Tyson.

The resolution asked the aldermen to read the report with the view of settling the transit problem without payments of expert fees in large amounts, which has been an expensive practice of the city. The Tyson-Strong report provides for the construction of subways in State and Washington streets by special assessment at a total estimated cost of $32,300,000, of which property owners would pay 55 per cent, $11,300,000 voluntarily without court proceedings. This plan would fit in without enabling legislation, according to Ald. Albert.

Governor to Hold Hearings.

The council's local transportation committee will not meet until after Gov. Emmerson has disposed of the transit bills passed by the legislature which are now awaiting his signature. The governor, however, will not act until after he has held hearings on the bills, he said yesterday in telegram to John Maynard Harlan, attorney for the Lissman interests. The telegram said:

"Traction bills may not reach my desk for several days, in which event hearings will not be held until next week. Ample opportunity will be given you and others."

The council committee is expected to be represented at the hearing and probably will ask a number of prominent Chicagoans to appear in behalf of the bills.

'CAMPAIGN TO RID U. S. COUNTRYSIDE OF BILBOARDS OPENS

New York, June 3.—[Special.]—The Art Center and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller Jr. are looking for a few slogans with a view of blasting the billboards and the hoarding stands from America's countryside.

A $1,000 prize competition was announced for a slogan to undermine a few of the slogan signs that scream from billboards. Suggestions are expected from all parts of the country.

The winner, who will be announced on June 24, will receive the price of a trip to Washington and back for himself and a companion, with all expenses paid. Mrs. Rockefeller promised that the winner will receive the award and Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur will explain the contest by radio. The contest closes on June 15.

The slogan must not contain more than six words and may be accompanied by an explanation of not more than 150 words. In each case it should explain why America's natural beauty should be preserved.

In the words of the committee: "It is the purpose of this contest to give the people of the United States an opportunity to furnish a battle cry that will enlist every one's support in the movement to eliminate ugly waste places and beautify the countryside."

NEW YORK LETS POOR SEE RICH DINE IN PARK

City Has Done 'Something
Big' in Civic Way.

BY TOM PETTEY.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) New York, June 3.—(Special)—At last the democratic village has done something civic for the do-gooder millionaires. It was a noble gesture, done in a big way that would have warmed the cockles of Ward McAllister's blue blood pumping heart. It has opened a rose-frescoed eating and drinking place in the midst of an 800 acre estate for the dearly beloved who grace the pages of the social register in charts old English type.

Genetics, glasses up to the Central Park Casino.

A lovely place of blood-red roses for blood-bloated beauties folk. A charming retreat where one may exchange a first mortgage for a ham sandwich and escape with a nominal fee of only $10 for a cover charge.

From Out of Great Heart.

Out of a great heart that knows no limit to its boundless generosity the taxpayers of this up and coming metropolis have made it possible for the Biddies, the Vanderbilts, the O'Briens and their certified friends to dine in an isolated splendor that would have made Henry VIII. wipe his fingers and reach for a small fork.

While Ward's world administrator was finding 85 thousand citizens who ate their lunch in newspapers in Central park, the casino, two grassy plots away but a million miles removed from the great unpainted, tonight was opening its hand painted doors to the favored few.

True, it was only the first of the five first nights and was given over to the boys and girls who swim and sunbathe in the water at the hotel circle and usually eat at the second table. Nevertheless, they write pieces for the art and music columns of the newspapers and sometimes get them printed, so it was a gala occasion.

Here Is Pedigree of Casino.

For the benefit of the folk out in the central states, who hold the amusing idea that parks are for the people the pedigree of the Central Park Casino is herewith limited.

Some months ago Anthony Biddle, Jr. (one of the Philadelphia Biddies, you know) sat in a suite in the Savoy-Park chateau with Ward and Vanderbilt. (The democratic Mrs. Vanderbilt and as they looked out over the fairland that was Central park an idea was born. Tonight the idea was photographed and tomorrow it will be christened.

But first somebody called on Mayor Jimmy Walker and the other city officials. A few weeks later the Dieppa Corporation (which is a restaurant corporation and not a real corporation with children, education camps and all milk funds) obligingly took the lease—an old rock and frame chateau overlooking the park lakes—off the city's hands and even agreed to pay $2,500 a year rental.

$12,000 for Checkroom privilege.

No doubt the corporation will be able to pay its landlord, for the checkroom privilege alone was resold for

MOTHER OF 3 WILL GO TO TRIAL TOMORROW ON JONES LAW CHARGE

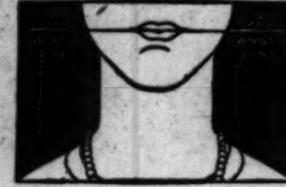

Mrs. Cecilia Black, 2190 Fillmore street, the first woman charged with a Jones law offense in Chicago, will go to trial tomorrow for transporting liquor before Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward. Mrs. Black is the mother of three children, and was arrested in March with a five gallon can of alcohol hidden in her automobile. Prohibition agents went to her home that night to bring food to the children and discovered a still and some mash in a basement room. Assistant United States District Attorney Joseph A. Strutin will prosecute the case and the woman will be defended by Brig. Gen. John V. Chinin.

$12,000, the florist concession brought an even larger amount and the idea of a hot dog grab was given up in favor of a $10 cover charge.

Joseph Urban, interior decorator do-luxe, set about making a castle out of a chateau while Mr. Biddle and Mr. Vanderbilt and a dozen other "governors" started selecting the high caste Brahmins, who would be permitted to spin soup on their vests in the New Casino.

Now, strangely enough, it developed after the taboos board had got through tabooing, there were 2,600 ambrosia-fed Brahmins of the grand opening type and only 500 grand thrones in a single restriction.

Nevertheless there have been no so it was decided to have five first bookings from the Chowder club.

FOR BRILLIANT TEETH AND CORAL GUMS

NATURALLY you want to preserve sound teeth and healthy gums. Then you must guard The Danger Line. For it is in the tiny V-shaped crevices at The Danger Line, where teeth and gums meet, that the acids are formed which cause the most dangerous forms of tooth decay and gum irritations.

Squibb's Dental Cream, because it contains more than 50% of Squibb's Milk of Magnesia, neutralizes the acids in those crevices which no toothbrush can reach. It brings the protection you need. And it is particularly suited to keeping teeth white and lustrous. Millions have found that it solves for good the problem of proper mouth hygiene. 40c for a large tube—everywhere.

2,000 MEN FIGHT TO HOLD FLOOD OFF DELTA TOWN

Greenville, Miss., June 3.—(UPI)—
Three of a flood stood menacingly before Greenville tonight while business men, planter, Negro and convict worked side by side to save the city and the lower delta from the rampaging waters of the Mississippi.

As night fell men had won over the river, for the time being at least, and hope was expressed that they would be able to hold back the pounding waves that shot a spout of sand and water ten feet into the air at 5 p.m. today, opening a wide gap in the levee one mile and a half below the city. The geyser sprang from a sand boil at the foot of the levee, which blew out before a guard could summon aid.

Immediately the alarm was sounded.

Greenville was in a panic. Residents recalled the horrors of 1877 when the city was flooded for weeks.

Wives sought high places for their valuable possessions, moved goods to upper floors, newcomers fled the city. The mayor issued orders closing all places of business and called for volunteers to save the city.

Within a short time a thousand men were laying brush and sand bags.

Before night another thousand men had arrived, including 300 state convicts who were working higher up the river.

The report, according to the resolu-

$100 • $200 • $300
at Reduced Rate

The Household Plan provides immediate funds on the easiest of terms—twenty months to repay, and a reduction of nearly one-third in rate. Under this plan, the new low rate is as follows:

$100 loan, average monthly cost $1.32
$200 loan, average monthly cost $2.63
$300 loan, average monthly cost $3.94

How We Make Loans

A $100 loan is payable $5.00 per month, plus interest. The first month, the interest charge is $2.50 and the last month it is only 13 cents. The average monthly cost is $1.32. Other amounts in proportion.

You Get the Entire Amount

There are no fees or deductions. If loans are repaid sooner than twenty months, the total cost is less. Loans are made to families, and no outside signers are required.

YOUR DRUGGIST IS RECOMMENDING THESE A. D. S. PRODUCTS

The better MILK of MAGNESIA in the bigger bottle

A. D. S. Milk of Magnesia conforms to a higher standard than the U. S. P. Standard of the U. S. Government. It is a more effective antacid than bicarbonate of soda or other remedies that may give only temporary relief. And it removes the cause. It is mildly laxative, never produces nausea or griping, and is almost tasteless. Take it to relieve acid stomach or distress caused by over-eating, alcoholic liquors or tobacco smoke. Have it in the house always.

Two sizes: 6 oz.
and 16 oz.—Family size

A. D. S. Milk of Magnesia DENTAL PASTE

For healthy gums
and perfect teeth

YOUR dentist will tell you the value of Milk of Magnesia to your teeth and gums. While gentle to the most delicate membranes of your mouth, it neutralizes acids—the cause of pyorrhoea, cavities and most mouth troubles.

A. D. S. Milk of Magnesia Dental Paste contains over 50% A. D. S. Milk of Magnesia.

AMERICAN DRUGGISTS SYNDICATE

A. D. S. ALKOL

Invigorating and Healthful for a Rubdown

AFTER exercising, after the daily bath, it invigorates and tones up the entire system. It cools the body and reduces perspiration discomfort.

As an after-shaving lotion—as an antiseptic for cuts and bruises—to allay fever temperatures—to make bed patients more comfortable, A. D. S. ALKOL is unequalled.

Always have a bottle of A. D. S. ALKOL in your medicine chest. Get the habit of using it daily on the children as well as on yourself.

Two sizes—8 oz. and 16 oz.

A. D. S. Russian Mineral OIL

WE import A. D. S. Russian Mineral Oil direct from Baku, Russia to the A. D. S. Laboratories. Recognized by doctors as the ideal intestinal lubricant. Colorless, odorless and tasteless.

It has greater viscosity (heavier body). It is free from paraffin and all foreign matters. Non-habit forming—non-griping—it is Nature's own lubricant.

HERE is an Aspirin of the highest test and purity. A. D. S. Aspirin dissolves rapidly and completely. Hence it is quickly absorbed, bringing more rapid relief for headaches, fevers, colds, rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago and neuralgia. As a gargle, it is likewise most effective.

In tins of 12<sup>8</sup> and 24<sup>8</sup> and the family bottle of 100

A. D. S. ADSINE

For Mouth and Throat Protection

ADSINE, used daily as a mouthwash, is a refreshing and effective antiseptic preventive of sore throats, colds and all afflictions entering the system via the mouth. It eliminates bad breath. It is invaluable as a gargle. It is not only antiseptic but used as a deodorant, (it neutralizes perspiration odor and refreshes).

LAWYERS FIGHT LOSS OF FOREIGN SHANGHAI COURTS

Fear Chinese Monopoly
Before the Bar.

BY JOHN POWELL

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)
SHANGHAI, June 3.—About fifty foreign lawyers in Shanghai, most of them of American or British nationality, but also including Japanese and Frenchmen, have formed a Shanghai committee to combat the Chinese in their efforts to retain the foreign bar.

Before the abolition of the Shanghai mixed court, in which foreign lawyers possessed a monopoly, there were more than two hundred foreign lawyers in Shanghai alone, but since the Chinese obtained control of the provisional court Chinese lawyers, graduates of American and European universities, have gradually crowded out the foreign lawyers until only about fifty remain here. The others have departed or are engaged in other kinds of business.

The foreign attorneys have now determined to make a last ditch fight, hoping to stave off the abolition of the foreign bar or force the Chinese government to admit foreign attorneys to practice in Chinese courts.

stration of Justice by the Chinese courts.

For Foreigners May Be Harmed.

The resolutions are being forwarded to the various powers for the purpose of blocking or delaying any action contemplated the relinquishment of extraterritorial rights.

The foreign lawyers are also afraid that in event the concession courts are abolished the Chinese government will not permit foreign lawyers to practice before the Chinese courts, despite the recommendation of the Straw commission on extraterritoriality in 1925 that foreign lawyers be permitted to practice in Chinese courts the same as Chinese lawyers.

DEMOCRAT WARD BOSS ORDERED TO TRIAL ON BALLOT FRAUD CHARGE

"Prince" Arthur Quinn, Democratic boss of the 3rd ward, and son of the late Jamie Quinn, must go to trial with four other defendants on Thursday morning. Judge Harry E. Miller ruled yesterday after denying a last minute motion for a change of venue. The five are charged with ballot box stuffing during the mayoral election in 1927.

Attorneys representing the company stated that this method will lessen the chances of loss to creditors and customers. Preparations for the application for a friendly referee, which were under way earlier in the day, were abandoned.

Examination of court records in New York has disclosed that a suit for $1,500,000, which was filed against the four term act. Judge Miller also denied this motion and ordered Heller to be ready for trial with the other defendants.

The case against Quinn is one of those started during the special grand jury investigation conducted by First Assistant State's Attorney Frank J. Loesch. Special Assistant State's Attorneys C. E. Lounsbury and William Haynes will be in charge of the prosecution.

DROP RECEIVER ACTION AGAINST TAYLOR & EWART

Reversing proceedings for Taylor, Ewart & Co., Chicago and New York investment concern which closed its doors last Saturday, appeared to be averted yesterday when the principal creditors indicated their desire to await a more favorable market for the liquidation of the company's collateral.

MOTOR OILS

You can trust

Polarine

It's a hard life for the modern motor! Traffic is congested. Engines are built with higher compressions. Cars are driven faster. Motors run hotter. Correct lubrication is more important than ever before. Only the richest and sturdiest motor oil will stand up under the strain!

Polarine will do it! Polarine is rich—sturdy—steadfast! It covers every frictional surface of the engine with a protecting cushion of oil.

By draining the crankcase every 500 miles and refilling with fresh Polarine, you insure satisfactory lubrication of your car—at minimum cost.

Iso-Vis

Iso-Vis is an oil of unusual quality. It lubricates the engine faithfully—to stand up under the strain of today's driving. Like Polarine, Iso-Vis is rich and sturdy and steadfast.

No need to drain the crankcase so frequently if you use Iso-Vis. This new type, constant viscosity motor oil gives a new type of lubrication service. It will not thin out! It wears and wears and wears!

For smooth motor miles—and a long life to your engine—use Polarine or Iso-Vis. They are dependable products of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). They are the motor oils you can trust.

CAMP ALGONQUIN
ALL DRESSED UP TO MEET FRIENDS

Many Indicate Desire to Help Fund.

With its face clean and its hair combed after several weeks of diligent effort on the part of Mrs. Astrid Saxe, superintendent, to rectify the ravage of winter on the buildings and grounds, Camp Algonquin awaits the first official visit of one of its oldest friends.

On Thursday the Miribel circle of the First Congregational church, Oak Park, twenty-five strong, will drive to Algonquin on a day's visit under the leadership of Mrs. Edwina S. True. Although individuals have made the trip before, this is the first time the circle as a body has made an official visit to the haven for mothers and children of the backwoods of the fund.

Yesterday's gifts to Algonquin included $100 from the American Legion, Dundee, Ill., and $10 from the South Shore chapter of the Deltaphian society. A total of $2,977.33 has been received this year. Checks should be made payable to the cashier of THE TRIBUNE.

Children Aid Fund.

"We were among the first to help the camp's establishment," Mrs. True said, "so we decided to spend our outing day on an inspection tour of the grounds. We are all interested in the camp's welfare and needs."

From other sources comes the evidence that the camp will not lack visitors this year. A club of little third grade girls in Dundee, Ill., write that they have a collection to give to the fund. An anonymous contributor writes in behalf of persons who know to be interested wishing to know just how far $5 and $10 contributions will go toward providing vacations.

$10 Goes a Long Way.

No gift is too small to apply on valuations. It is estimated that $10 will give a mother or child a two weeks' vacation, covering the entire cost of board and room. Transportation is provided free by the Chicago and North Western railroad. Thus $5 gives a child a week at camp and $1, $2, and so on a proportionate number of days in camp. Every penny is welcome, as the small contributions are the backbone of the fund.

Warrants Ordered to End
Davy Lee's Work on Stage

City Prosecutor Frank Pease was ordered yesterday to obtain warrants for the arrest of Herbert S. True, president; Barney Balaban, and other officers of the Balaban & Katz corporation, operating motion picture theaters, when they indicated that they would not end the appearances of 4 year old Davy Lee on the stages of their theaters. Club women and civic organizations have registered a protest with Corporation Counsel Etelson against the appearance of the young movie star.

SHE THOUGHT:

"You can't help perspiring—but that's no excuse for offending."

But, to be polite,

SHE SAID:

"It's so stuffy today... would you mind opening this window?"

Everybody avoided Bill
until he overcame "B. O."

(Body Odor)

BILL was no mind-reader. But he could see that Joan wasn't enjoying this trip into town.

Why is she edging away? he wondered. Then he saw the newspaper headline—"Hotter weather here—look out for 'B.O.'"

Body odor was that his trouble? Read Bill's own answer.

Keeps perspiration odorless

"Tricky 'B.O.' It fooled me all right."

"Yes, I perspired. But in a healthy, normal way."

I didn't notice any unpleasantness.

"Now I realize that we become insensitive to ever-present odors; that pores constantly give off odor-causing waste—as much as a quart a day; and the hotter the weather—the more we offend."

"So it's Lifebuoy for me always—and not 'B.O.' worries. Its purifying lather keeps the body fresher. Even removes cigarette odors from the fingers."

"We all think Lifebuoy's fine skin soap, too—and a real safeguard against disease germs. Lifebuoy's pleasant, extra-clean scent that vanishes as you rinse, tells you it purifies."

Why tens of thousands of motor car buyers will consider only those cars with body by Fisher

Body value which is found only in cars costing several hundred dollars more

Four basic advantages enable Fisher so remarkably to increase body value while holding down price, as to make Fisher Body, for tens of thousands of motor car buyers, the determining factor in motor car selection. This preference is the result of the greater Fisher Body value which—in cars outside the Fisher Body group—is obtainable only in cars costing several hundred dollars more.

1 First of these fundamental Fisher advantages, is the enormous resources of the Fisher Body Corporation.

Some idea of the extent of Fisher resources may be realized when one considers that Fisher operates the world's largest manufacturing plant for automobile body hardware and fittings (Ternstedt); one of the largest plate glass manufacturing plants in the world; and harvests timber from its own 200,000 acres of forest lands and converts that timber into lumber in its own mills.

These resources alone would enable Fisher to create economies entirely without parallel in the body building art.

2 Another reason for the unprecedented value of Body by Fisher, is Fisher's huge production, with all that means in reduced costs of fabrication and assembly and huge saving by reason of great purchasing power.

As everyone knows, quantity production is one of the chief factors in manufacturing economy. Fisher employs more than 60,000 persons, who build annually in 48 great factories, upwards of 1,250,000 automobile bodies.

Some idea of Fisher Body purchasing power will be gained when one notes that in the twelve months of 1928 Fisher required for the manufacture of Fisher bodies, more than 600,000,000 pounds of steel, 285,000,000 boardfeet of lumber, 26,000,000 square feet of plate glass and about 20,000,000 yards of upholstery cloth.

3 A third basic reason for Fisher Body value is Fisher's certainty of market.

That market consists of the companies manufacturing General Motors cars—Fisher Body Corporation being a division of General Motors.

Fisher, therefore, does not bid for contracts—it always knows well in advance what its manufacturing program is going to be.

It has no fear that the expensive machinery busy this year will be idle next year.

Fisher's costs, therefore, are held to a minimum.

At the same time, certain months in advance, of its production requirements, it is able to co-ordinate its operations so as to achieve still further economies while maintaining highest quality.

4 A fourth basic reason for Fisher Body value, is the proximity of Fisher Body manufacturing plants to the chassis plants of its customers.

This eliminates much costly handling and holds down transportation expense, and thus permits Fisher to put still greater value into its bodies.

This brief outline of the chief Fisher manufacturing advantages—there are many others—explains, in part, why Fisher is able to build into its bodies value so superior as to make Body by Fisher the determining factor today in thousands of motor car sales. If you compare Fisher Body cars with other cars in their respective price fields, you cannot escape the conviction that in Fisher Body cars—and in Fisher Body cars alone—does your money purchase all the body value, style, comfort and durability which you have a right to expect in a motor car.

MANILA AUDITOR, FACING PRISON, CABLES HOOVER

Defends His Action in Graft Cases.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.

Manila, P. L., June 3.—Still facing a term in the penitentiary on a contempt charge in connection with his exposure of graft, Insular Auditor Jim F. Wright today cabled President Hoover, asserting that section 34 of the Jones law gives him a like status to the controller general.

The American chamber of commerce is also preparing to cable President Hoover protesting the situation caused by the differences between Presidential appointees. It says this is in regard to American interests and urges an early solution on the lines recommended by congress by former President Coolidge.

Wright's predicament is more serious owing to the fact that since the Supreme court sit, Filipinos will have a majority of four to one American. Three American judges are disqualified and two others are at home on leave. In American quarters anxiety exists should the Filipino judge impose the Presidential appointee, seeking to perform his duties.

Uncover More Graft.

Meanwhile Mr. Wright continues to uncover graft in the various bureaus. Filomeno Perez, secretary of commerce and communications, four of whose bureaus—public works, post, commerce and industry, and supply—show gross irregularities extending toward $500,000, has already been cabled by Wright, the inspector, recommending the removal of Paul Reyes, director of commerce and industry, and the dismissal of seven assistant directors. Reyes is held personally responsible for the loss of $12,000.

In the bureau of posts, Director Tapao is chiefly accused. In addition to being unable to account for an enormous quantity of supplies, he also is charged of imposing on the employee through a postal magazine and a restaurant.

Tried to Save Philippines' Money.

Mr. Wright's troubles are due to his effort to save the Philippines some money. This is in connection with the Iloilo wharf construction case, in which he has fought and won. The Jones law has been challenged. It is conceded that unless he files the bond he will lose the case and the funds demanded by the contractor, which the bond is to cover, must be paid. The bond is to insure payment of any less than Tan C. Tee, the contractor, or the Philippine government may suffer as the result of the litigation.

Bonds for the Iloilo wharf construction project were sold March 18, 1928, since when the government has paid interest on the money. The project under which the bonds were issued involves 1,000,000 pesos ($300,000) and the contention is that "the money has remained idle in the treasury and ought not to be delayed by the contention of any government official, for if the stay is granted it would result in heavy loss to the government."

In brief and oral arguments, the salient points stated in court, "In examining the records of his office for the year 1928 alone respondent [Wright] has found more than 120 cases of contracts involving most surprising violations of the law which apparently have been wilfully overridden or ignored."

Extravagance in Equipment.

The insular auditor also is in controversy with the bureau of posts in the matter of extravagance in office equipment. In a letter to Filomeno Perez, Mr. Wright called attention to extravagance as discovered by the audit of the accounts of the bureau of posts. For instance, the purchase of an adding machine for 2,000 pesos ($1,000), while the machine he discovered cannot be operated and has been lying idle in the accounting division. That is only one small item concerning the postal service.

Another comparatively small case that has come before the auditor's committee is a matter of 50,000 pesos ($10,000) graft in the construction of about thirty lighthouses. Lighthouses which normally cost $400 to build were rated at $2,500 each. A glaring incident was that of a light-buoy on Carmen Island, north of Negros. This buoy was described as a light-house station and it was appeared such same as a closet, water pipes and 2,000 feet of lumber. No trace of such articles could be found.

THE NEWS

welfare comes together in this stupendous six-ring star-spangled circus of a city!

Rightly enough, then, to the advertiser New York has always been a complex and multiple market. No single distributor satisfies it, no one jobber serves it. The limited agencies and limited efforts effective elsewhere hardly skim the surface. There was not even a dominant or majority advertising medium—until recently. There is now!

— 42-43-44-45-46-47 —

Today New York has a powerful agent to bind its mass. A single medium has made an amalgam of its millions—The News.

Ten years ago The News did not exist. Today it is the most widely bought and read newspaper in this country, the only newspaper in New York big enough to really cover New York. Reaching seven in ten New York City families, it is the city's greatest community interest.

From the Battery to Baychester in the Bronx, from Jamaica to Jersey City, it reaches a majority of families in all but a very few neighborhoods. And with the largest New York suburban circulation, it goes to one in five families in the suburbs.

Its circulation takes cognizance of no classifications, recognizes no restrictions. In intelligence it ranges from the hardly literate to the Litt. D., the simple to the sophisticate.

It observes no social standards, and is found on park benches as well as on Park Avenue. It has no age factor, and draws from the high school and old people's home. It knows no politics and appeals to all parties as the most democratic institution in New York.

It breaks income barriers; and more copies go into the over-$5,000 districts than any other New York newspaper. It is read by the milkman and the magnate, the shopgirl and her most extravagant customer, the business head and the office boy, the president's wife and the hall porter. It is read by more men than any other New York newspaper—and by more women! News circulation is New York!

It is small in size, with condensed text; small in page, easy to handle, to see and to read. It gives all the news that most of the people want to know, is intelligently illustrated with new pictures, and entertaining with proven features. And to advertising it gives visibility, bringing the advertising message to the eyes and minds of millions, saving it from the waste spaces of unseen pages.

Naturally, The News has been a very successful advertising medium. Last year it carried more than 10,000,000 lines of advertising, at the highest newspaper rate in America, a volume of more than ten million dollars. But on a million basis—and on a result basis—it is the cheapest medium in New York. It makes advertising resultful because it gives it a chance to get results!

The pioneering period of The News is past. It paid its pioneer advertisers. Today the most conservative advertiser may use it without question—because the most alert advertisers are! Success is the best answer to skepticism! If you have a selling problem in New York, The News may have a saving solution. Investigate!

AMALGAM!

New York . . . six million people crowded closer together than anywhere else in the Occidental world . . . City composed of cities, fusion of a thousand communities, overlapped assimilation of a hundred villages . . . Self-sufficient, independent, socially insular. Manhattanites are born and die without ever seeing Brooklyn, and Brooklyn wots not of the Bronx. Two hundred year old settlements slumber on the shores of Staten Island, while Queens is speckled with a rash of two year old communities . . . Travel is radial, in and out of Manhattan . . . Even the suburbs are separate. Westchester knows Jersey as little as it does Cleveland, and Long Island lies aloof between them.

The gulls are greater than miles of water. A dozen races and a gross of nations have fed the melting-pot, but the broth is still lumpy. Three score of parental tongues still leave a breath of Babel. Creeds are complicated, with high-caste Hindu, Greek Catholic, Christian Science and Connecticut Congregational churches within the same square mile. Commerce makes its own cameraderie, with businesses brooding together and industries incubating in close communities. Shopping centers are spread about without rhyme but with reason. Personal incomes run from the insignificant to the incalculable. Near-went is a neighbor to wanton luxury. Every conceivable difference in man, mind and material made this announcement they suppressed the charges on which they expelled Iowa. There followed a great furor in conference circles. Iowa leaders professed ignorance of the charges. The campus was in a turmoil.

Tribune Published Evidence.

Then Maj. Griffith, Big Ten commissioner, went to Iowa City and conferred at length with President Walter Jansup and the athletic leaders. After his conference the Iowans clamped the lid even tighter on the charges, issued a statement that from now on athletics would be under control of the faculty, and then rehanded by the faculty committee of the Big Ten.

Since then the Tribune has published all of the charges against Iowa, completing the list with the story today of Coach Case and his credits.

And today Iowa makes its plea.

The meeting at the Sherman will be held at noon.

football games under conditions of theoretical honesty. The progress of ethics or morals, or whatever the principles of football are to be called, has been much like the progress of government in this country, and if fault still may be found with both the improvement has been steady.

Become Suave, Conscientious.

Football players are subsidized in 1922 just as Presidents are nominated outside the nominating conventions, but sport and government have become quite suave and conscientious by comparison with their general character in their formative years.

It is just as startling to hear that an illustrious football player of 1900 whose name is still spoken with a reverent hush was in fact a mercenary with absolutely no filial attachment to dear old alma mater as it is to read that one of the Presidents of the country's middle period was an unwashed half-literate who chewed tobacco in bed. Still, one hears such things about them, and it is as much as the illusion can stand.

Reaching perfection as par, I suppose football players are not bad, but have always insisted that the par is too tough. If most of the rules which only bespeak suspicion were abolished and players merely were required to be legitimate undergraduates in good standing, amateur practice would come closer to the requirements. In that case, of course, the rich grads would send hordes of young football players to college school, but from what I hear of the Big Ten they are doing it anyway at the present time.

ENGLEWOOD HELD WITHOUT HIT AS LAKE VIEW WINS

Pitchers O'Grady and Austin of Lake View collaborated in a no-hit, no-run effort yesterday to give their team a 4 to 0 victory over Englewood in a practice game at Welles park. Both teams will compete in the City League semi-finals which start this week. Lake View representing the north section with Lane, and Englewood the central division with Lindstrom.

O'Grady had the first four innings striking out four and Austin finished, fanning six. Only three Englewood batters reached first, each pitcher granting a walk and a third being safe on an error. Lake View bunched hits off Joe Ponzevic and Kramer in the fourth and fifth innings for its four runs.

Chicago Golfers Practice for Open Preliminaries

BY HARLAND ROHM.

Practice for the qualifying rounds of the national open championship, to be held over the Nos. 3 and 4 courses at Olympia Fields next Monday, began yesterday. The No. 4 course will be open for play during the national open every day this week.

About 40 played around the course yesterday, the lowest score being made by Gus Novatny of Edgewood Valley, who shot 74. Among the 75s were George Dawson, Douglas Casey, Todd Hardy and Johnny Connell.

Fourteen of the 122 entrants from the Chicago district will qualify to compete in the championship proper at Westgate Fields, New York, N. Y., June 27 to 29. In addition Harry Hampton of Beverly and Al Espinoza of the new Sportmans' club qualify automatically inasmuch as they finished in the first thirty last year.

The Chicago Hotelmen's Golf association will hold their first tournament of the season on June 20.

At Olympia Fields today, they will leave the keep of the I. C. golf special at 11:22 and after lunch play 18 holes for the usual collection of low gross (likely to be Leonard Hicks, president of the association) and low net prizes.

There are rumors that all is not well among the local workers on the course's private golf courses. Conditions still are far from what they should be, but golfers who play these courses assert there is a notable lack of human hazards sitting on their

Gorilla Jones Knocks Out Al Mello in Sixth Round

Boston, Mass., June 3.—(AP)—Gorilla Jones, sensational Negro welterweight, technically knocked out Al Mello of Lowell in the sixth round of a 10 round bout here tonight. Mello fought valiantly, but the Negro's terrific righthanded punches carried too much steam for him. Jones floored him for nine in the fourth and dropped him again in the sixth with a barrage of right and left hooks to the head.

American Giants Bunch Hits; Beat Stars, 5 to 2

The American Giants won from the Detroit Stars yesterday, 5 to 2, by bunching hits off Shaw in the fourth and fifth frames. A running catch by Saunderson, Giants' left fielder, featured. The final game of the series will be played today.

shots in the "rubber" set and won out the match.

Other Favorites Win

Other favorites for the title through without much difficulty, though some of the matches were three set affairs.

George M. Lott Jr., Davis Cup star and present holder of the city singles title, plays his first match at 8 p. m. today, when he faces Charles L. Lott, who will play three matches this afternoon, assuming he wins as he should.

Thalheimer vs. Lott

Louis L. Thalheimer, Texas star who is expected to meet Lott in the singles finals, won in easy fashion yesterday. He plays Willard Lejeck, who trimmed Ed Lejeck, the younger star of the famous Hamilton Park.

This meet, records show, is the largest in the country.

Joe Masek plays Leo Leck, who took the measure of Clarence Charles, former Brown University star, in three close sets.

The doubles play will start soon, along with the women's singles. The finals will be played Sunday afternoon.

NOTHING SEEMS TO HINDER USE OF STOCK LOANS

Demand Grows for Regulation of Holding Co.

BY SCRUTATOR.

The continued growth of the public utility industry, the passing of the municipal plants, and the linking of facilities over great territories under the financial control of large holding companies is bringing the natural aftermath in a demand from many quarters for some system of control or regulation for the holding concerns.

Most of it comes from gentlemen who are and have been regarded as rather radical in their views. Their concern is for the consumer. They suspect that holding companies are a charge on the subsidiaries that actually furnish power or light or other services and that they do not give enough in return to justify their existence. In other words, that they cause rates for service to be higher than they should be.

What Analysts Believe.

But the more scholarly analysts of the holding company believe that it is not the consumer, but the investor, who is most likely to suffer if regulation is not directly imposed, this, of course, assuming that the company management may, in instances, be using their power for their own good to the exclusion of the interests of others.

Even the Investment Bankers Association, America's most disturbing tendency in the utility field. Its committees on public service securities have in general sufficient power to protect the consumer by fixing the rate he shall pay the operating subsidiary.

The importance of the public service companies to investors and users alike may be realized by a glance at recent figures on the electrical supply of the country. Forty-six years after it took its start it had a capital of ten billion dollars. Last year it had net revenues of $900 million dollars, an increase of 150 per cent over ten years. In 1928, it is estimated, another billion dollars will now enter its capital structure, and its gross revenues may approximate two billions. Customers numbered twenty-one million in 1928.

Basis for Rates.

A large proportion of the capital passes first through the hands of the holding companies, which in turn own the plants which produce electricity. At present there is little direct regulation. David E. Lillienthal, a Chicago attorney, in a recent work on the subject, stated that relations between the two types of companies are regulated by state control over all con-

Brokers Borrowing Outside Reserve.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Neither the drastic declines in the securities markets during the last ten days of May, nor the reiterated warnings of the federal reserve authorities have been effective in bringing about any marked restriction in the amount of credit devoted to speculation.

This is shown in the monthly report issued by the New York stock exchange yesterday on the borrowings of its members. It would appear, however, that brokers have reduced their loans at the New York reserve members banks but have increased their borrowings from nonmember banks and other lenders over whom the reserve board has no check or control.

Members of the New York stock exchange on May 31 were borrowing $161,174,925, compared with $16,385 on April 30, and $6,304,457,403 on May 29. Therefore the decline of $19,731,470 during May was a reduction of only 1.62 per cent, and the decline of $159,319,483 from the record of March 20 was a shrinkage of only 2 per cent.

Causes of Disappointment.

In view of the fact that the reserve board last Friday reported a weekly decline of $32,000,000 in brokered loans, the stock exchange reported some disappointment in Wall and La Salle streets. It again emphasized the discrepancy between the figures of the reserve board and the stock exchange. The weekly reserve board reports had led to expectations of a much larger increase in the stock exchange figures.

The reserve board report on loans to brokers and dealers by the New York member banks showed a total of $5,214,000,000 on May 29, compared with $5,322,000,000 on May 1, and $5,793,000 on March 20, when the peak was reached. Therefore the reduction

SOVIET TRADE IS RECOGNIZED BY BIG BUSINESS

Ford, Radio, DuPont Sign Contracts.

New York, June 3.—(AP)—Regarded by soviet authorities as the most forward step in two years toward closer relations between their government and American business, soviet officials said yesterday that twelve American firms have been signed. The details involving millions were announced today.

Chief among the agreements is a specific one with the Ford Motor Company calling for the purchase of about $30,000,000 worth of Ford cars and parts and the construction in the U. S. S. R. of an engine plant to produce annually 100,000 Ford cars and trucks. The other contracts call for technical assistance, especially American engineering consultation on soviet projects.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 3.—Led by Ford, which crossed the 200,000 mark in May production, a record May output was reported today by motor car manufacturers.

Some seasonal declines, however, were reported from the April figure.

The Ford statement showed May production of 200,803 units, including domestic, export and the Walkerville plant, compared with 175,307 units in May, 1928, and 190,383 in April, 1928.

Chevrolet Output.

The Chevrolet company broke all monthly production records with an output of 160,895 cars and trucks.

That compares with the previous record of 157,127 units produced in April.

The company's output in May, 1928, was 140,771 units, while in May, 1927, was 130,704. Graham-Paige Motor Company shipped 11,677 cars, a record.

CHICAGO STOCKS RISE IN FACE OF HIGHER MONEY

Bendix Corp. Shares
Shoot Up 7 Points.

BY GEORGE HAMMOND.

Increases in the call money rate from six to seven per cent failed to keep most of the active shares from closing higher on the Chicago Stock Exchange yesterday, and the gains of from one to seven points were marked up. Some of the radio and automotive issues led the movement.

Sonatron Tube shot up five points to 35 in last hour trading as a report spread in the financial district that the company's merger deal had been completed and lacks only the final signatures to be effective. The buying came from an eastern source identified with the Radio corporation. It was also understood that the merged company will apply for listing on the New York stock exchange.

Kennard Radio and Steinite were each up a point and Grigby-Grunow advanced fractionally. U. S. Radio lost 2 1/2.

Features Automobiles.

Bendix corporation was a feature in the automotive division, closing up two points. Bendix Aviation closed 1 1/2 points higher. Borg-Warner advanced 1 1/2 and Modine was 1 1/4 higher. Modine Manufacturing reported net earnings for the first quarter of this year totaling $206,906 after all charges and taxes, equal to $1.95 a share on 105,000 shares of common stock outstanding. This compares with $129,629, or $1.29 a share on 100,000 shares, in the similar period of last year. Shipments for the quarter were reported 12 per cent higher than for the period of 1928.

Four other two points comprise the report that directors will declare a quarterly dividend of 75 cents, which action would place the stock on a $3 annual basis, compared with $1.80. Officials of the company announced after the close that they would issue a statement on a change in the dividend rate later this week.

Cherry-Burrell corporation was unchanged on light trading. Walter L. Cherry, president, reported net earnings for the six months ended April 30 of $351,227 after all charges and taxes. This is equivalent after preferred dividends to $2.22 a share on the 133,414 shares of common stock outstanding. The month of April produced $161,195 of the net profits. He added that the company expects to enter upon commercial production of a new type ice cream freezer which will be leased on a royalty basis in the near future.

Extra Dividend.

Borin-Vivitone eased fractionally on small sales, although the company declared an extra dividend of 50 cents a share in addition to an annual distribution of $1.20 semi-annually. Net earnings for the three months ended April 30 were equal to $4.55 a share on the stock and the net was 103 per cent larger than that in the corresponding period of last year.

Studebaker Mall was unchanged. F. H. Wellington, vice president, announced that negotiations have been completed for the opening of twenty additional retail stores in connection with a chain of retail clothing stores operated in Wisconsin and Michigan. This brought the total number of stores to forty-five.

Ontario Manufacturing was up three points following the issuance of a report showing sales for May totaling $122,444, a gain of about 75 per cent, and that consideration is being given to a plan for acquiring another company. Sales for the first five months of this year were reported to be 27 per cent in excess of those for the same period of 1928.

Backstay Welt was not traded in. The company reported net earnings

THE UNKISSED BRIDE
By BERTA RUCK

SYNOPSIS.

Joy Harrison, living in London and working for Dr. Rex Travers in Harley street, is visited by her friend, her fiancé, Geoffrey Ford, a well known novelist, asking to be released from the engagement. Preoccupied with her own trouble, she fails to notice that Dr. Travers seems troubled, too. Towards the end of the day he tells Joy that he has just lost a great deal of money through an unscrupulous solicitor and he will be forced to give up his house in Harley street.

Dr. Locke, a partner, tells Rex that he has just been offered a practice with a comfortable villa in the south of France which he cannot take on, and he suggests that he and Rex is a bachelor. To his partner's suggestion that he marry and take up the new post, Rex turns a deaf ear.

Joy, who has been listening to the doctors' colloquy, suddenly sees a method of escape for her and she asks Dr. Travers if he will marry her on a business arrangement. The doctor is stunned by her suggestion and finally asks her why she made it. She tells him that she is badly in need of another job, although her real reason is to have Geoffrey and her engagement to another man.

The doctor's offer to change his altered circumstances will have on his young nephew, the ward, Percival Arthur, Percival. Finally he decides to take Joy at her word and they enter into an agreement to marry on a strictly business basis. Immediately after the ceremony Rex, Joy, and Percival Arthur go to the south of France. Joy enjoys her new home and Percival Arthur has the time of his life. The boy fails to show up for much one day and Travers is worried about him.

INSTALLMENT XXXII
A DIFFICULT TASK.

Travers' hand was wrung by innumerable cordial strangers—his inquiries were met by a deafening chorus.

"No, Monsieur le Docteur, Tou-tou is not with us!"

"Tou-tou is Art-tur—Not here!"

"Ah, the brigand! He forsakes the camarades!"

"This morning he promised to teach the crawl to Simone and Marcel and Pierrot and Jean and Sharlay!"

"This afternoon it was arranged he fetch for the tennis Eugenia and me!" complained one of the little Italian maidens, ready in bandeau, socks and leggings, "No Pierrot!"

"C'm on, dead weight him!" vociferated another of the camaderes; and having had his wrist nearly dislocated in what people of other nations intend for an English shake-hand which was dealt out to him by heaven (and Percival Arthur) alone knew he deserved.

He met, on his road back to Mon Plaisir, the red roadster and the friendly young count, returned from driving to the station to fetch a lady. He pulled up, and introduced Travers to this lady. She was his married sister: the baroness—some Russian name Rex did not catch: about thirty, pretty, and faultlessly turned out, with a pair of blue Breton eyes.

"I want to bring her, if I may, to call on Mrs. Travers."

"You are just married?" said the pretty baroness, whose blue eyes were roguish and inquisitive, leaning out of the car towards him—rather like the eyes of his sister, Joy, Muirhead. "I like very much to see the first arrangements of your young marriage; it interests every woman, that!"

"Quite," said Travers, politely, and briefly reported the disappearance of Percival Arthur.

"I haven't seen him since perhaps eleven this morning when I promised for tomorrow to lend him this bus with Manley for a joyride," said the count.

It was the shortest letter she had ever received from a writer of profuse love letters.

In his English, which was excellent, studded with occasional jewels of mispronunciation and unusual phrase, "What a charming chap he is, Dr. Travers! A thorough little sportsman; intelligent, droll."

"Very kind of you."

"But when I see madame, Mrs. Travers, coming down in the morning with him in the sea, I am reminded always of—Will you not have a cigarette?—I am reminded of these Italian paintings of Venus accompanied by her son Cupid, but the young and growing Eros. He and she make each other rather well, you know. Since the other day, I am sorry to say, he found it a little difficult to hear her beauty remarked upon by another man. This count was a nice enough fellow, but he had the continental habit of putting into many words what we shirk putting into thoughts. Rex added, "Well, Lord knows where the infernal boy's got to; he's been missing since before he came."

"Not to be surprised at," smiled the count, turning again to the wheel. "In this place there are such heaps of distractions, isn't it? Eros, escaped! Au revoir!"

He drove off with the sister (who turned eagerly to him to discuss the seductive Englishman whom they had just met).

He had not far to travel, for miles out on a professional visit to the handsome Maud Wain, one of the nicer English, for whom he would have been glad to have prescribed six months' hard labor. Since she was a woman so colorless that she could acquire no importance except through ill health, she had developed a habit of wakefulness in the middle of the night, and she now talked about "my insomnia" in the tone of possessive pride with which some women utter the words "my boy in the navy," or "my husband's" idea."

The afternoon her insomnia fettered the clever new young English doctor to her side for one hour and a quarter; during part, at least, of which time he thought of how Joy's little face, over the luncheon table, had lighted up with interest about his flying, had then quickened into protest on the boy's behalf; but had blushed to the vivid pink of one of these Provencal roses—about what?

Joy, meanwhile, spent a solitary afternoon. A lazy, simmering afternoon; all quiet but for the released voice of Melanie raised once more in her song of love misunderstanding.

"She thinks she's got the whole of Mon Plaisir to herself," Joy smiled, contentedly pottering.

Quite astounding the pleasure she herself took in a house to herself. This place was growing so real to her; it was sending London, Chelsea, Harley street, back into a region of far-off unhappy things that—strangely—seemed to mean less and less!

Joy herself could scarcely believe that in so short a time she should feel so utterly different.

For instance—

Now, she now ought to face what lay after all at the core of her secret heart.

What was to be her attitude towards Geoffrey Ford?

This free afternoon could be employed in writing to him a letter which she ought to have got off a fortnight ago. A letter of full and frank explanation, in reply to his. What about it?

Joy entered Madame Jeanne's bedroom (she always thought of herself as a guest in this apartment, from which she had, all the same, banished a covey of those cupids). Joy took from the pocket in the middle of her dressing case that letter which had reached her two minutes after her wed-ding. She read it. It was the shortest letter she had ever received from a writer of profuse love letters; it was the least contemptuous (since the letter from her heart is seldom a credit to the head). It ran:

"Dear Joy:

"I don't know if this will be the slightest use, but I am writing to you to wash out my last letter and to take my back if you, dear, you can. I am waiting at my rooms in Tite street. One line, if you, as soon as you possibly can."

"Yours, as he never was before,

"GEOFFREY."

To which she had hastily scribbled the reply to be posted at Victoria station: "I am married and we are just going away. I will write later." "Joy TRAVERS."

And she had not yet written.

Even the writing of that letter became more difficult; simpler explanations had been worked out and postponed by people of character more than Joy Travers.

She stood looking at Madame Jeanne's gilded escritoire, its porcelain inkstand embellished by one of those porcelain cupids. Another cupid held up instead of an arrow a pink feather pen.

Joy shook her head at it. In a mood when writing seems impossible, one would be certain to put the wrong thing.

Joy remembered that Percival Arthur's room at the top of the house was sure to need putting in order; how can one expect mads to do without grubbing what falls to the share of the female relatives of masculinity at the Slovens?

His room, of course, was what his American friends would describe as a bird's nest. It showed evidence that the boy had rushed in again after his first flight to the beach. Wet bathing suit cast down on the pillow. The boy lay in it in his long white flannel trousers, socks (one with a gaudy neck-suspender attached), braces entangled with some fishing line, an undershirt, and his Mewborough blazer.

Chicago Girl
Picked to Sing
in Grand Opera

Maria Matyas's Audience
Told at Concert.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

It was told during the joint recital by Maria Matyas and Rudolph Magnus at Curtis hall last night that Miss Matyas is to be a member of the American Opera company next season. This could seem to qualify as good news, for she has a voice of great beauty, a soprano of lovely tone that soars and floats and performs striking feats of agility with unfailing carelessness.

Otherwise, there is a temptation to consider the two almost as one, or rather as two practicing the same art in an unconventional fashion.

At the start you learn who killed Sigabe. Manderson. Follows the winding trail of deduction over which Detective Trent, gayly, convincingly, and unerringly, travels, plucking circumstantial evidence as he goes, till it leads to the wrong party!

This unlucky chap admits that everything proclaimed by the astute sleuth in truth, save the conclusion that he, the accused, is the murderer.

"Trent has stated facts," says Jack Marlowe, the galloping star in the face—"with one exception. I did not kill Manderson. He was dead when I found him."

A superior smile from Trent. His assistant leaps forth with handcuffs, which, by the way, he has almost attached to every one in the cast at one time or another during the story's sequence.

"It's just at that moment . . . (I leave you in suspense, ladies and gentlemen.) Otherwise the film starts."

(Douglas Fairbanks Jr. reminds me so much of a lean, wistful, earnest, intelligent police pup! I always feel like throwing a bone for him.)

MISS MARIA MATYAS.

She resides at 2711 West Ohio street, was a winner in the Atwater Kent radio scholarship contest, and will sing in grand opera next season.

Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question asked for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Mrs. G. T. Vaughn, 338 Oak street, Hammond, Ind., was awarded $5.

The Question.

What do you look forward to most with the coming of summer?

The Answers.

Miss Ruth Franklin, 181 North Michigan avenue, ticket seller.—I have nothing in particular to look forward to this summer, because I will take a winter vacation. My relatives take in the Mardi Gras at New Orleans almost every year, and I am planning to go with them this year. I think that trip is more important than anything else in which I am interested.

C. S. Rice, 1036 North Dearborn street, salesman.—'Twon't be long now. June is here at last, and I'll soon be on my way for a fishing trip in Canada—that sounds good to me. I'll be there then a trip to the Black Hills, S. D., may be you, maybe, and so on.

Miss Clarita Nadler, 4635 Kenmore avenue, secretary.—I wish I could look forward to a trip to Roumania. I am looking forward to that trip because I was born there. But I can't afford that luxury. Another thing, I don't get a regular vacation; I have to take it. Altogether, things are not so encouraging.

Don Ulech, St. Clair hotel, artist.—I look forward to next winter—the is, if we are to have any duplicates of the high temperature days we had recently. However, uppermost in my mind is the syndication of a comic strip that I recently have come across, consider all other incidents this summer as inconsequential by comparison.

Miss Annette Cooper, 4905 West Adams street, stenographer.—To the grand opening of the swimming season. Swimmers are gathering at the beaches every day. Every swimmer must be prepared with their standard operatic roles. The judges are privileged to call for any part of any of the three roles offered. Students will provide their own accompanists.

Waldorf Hotel Auction

Ends; $625,000 Paid
for Famous Fittings

New York, June 3.—[Special.]—The march of the proletariat through the marble halls of the Waldorf-Astoria was halted today near the window where one used to ask for the prince of Wales. Over this window a sign warned all concerned that only certified checks would be accepted and that if they didn't remove their purchases within one day, they—that is, the purchases—would be thrown out, because the building was coming down.

For the thousandth time Benjamin S. Wise, whose auctioneering resources have been worn down to sheer will power by a solid month of tramping and shouting through this hotel of departed grandeur, climbed his stepladder and sat on the red plush top.

This last day of the longest auction of furnishings in the United States, netting perhaps $625,000, was a day of low prices or none for the most part.

The lobby chairs that once held the hotel clerks call lobby sitters who don't belong, were gone today, but the carved stone jardinières that used to hold the "rubber plants" sold for $4.

Now, instead of the hat rack, telephone booth or key rack, and the safe, which held many pearl necklaces past news, went for $9 to C. J. Dunn, who did not realize until after he bought it, that the elevators were out of order and that he would have to find a way to lower it from the window.

Speaking of what he termed the "wet press" and prohibition, Dr. McBride said, "if they had thought of the idea themselves, it would be a good idea to let the world have it." He never gave $25,000 to put prohibition over," McBride declared. "The trouble with his plan or any plan is that it does not solve the alcoholic liquor question. Prohibition is fundamentally right and the liquor traffic wrong."

The assembly went on record as the bidding was standing dispensed of the boldness of the sober investors in advertising their wares over the radio, in newspapers, magazines and on billboards." It was voted to protest to the radio companies.

Des Moines, Ia., was selected as the place for the 1928 assembly.

Thirty-six thousand letters were sent out during the 1928 presidential campaign asking members of the church to pray for success of the "dry candidate," a report of the Women's General Missionary society disclosed. That report was approved.

Protestant Churches
Plan Joint Council to Aid Social Service

Action looking toward the development of the state council of Protestant churches was taken yesterday at a meeting of representatives of eight states at the First Methodist church, under the chairmanship of the Rev. Roy B. Guild, associate general secretary of the federal council of churches of Christ in America. The constitution of the proposed council will be submitted to official delegates of the eight states on Thursday.

The church includes in the council will be Presbyterian, Baptist, Congregational, Episcopal, Methodist, and Disciples of Christ.

"Millions of Cats" is Child's Book of the First Water

"Millions of Cats" by Wanda Gág is a rare book for children. Rare in the sense that rarely does one come across a book that possesses between its two covers all the qualities a child's book should have.

This one, which is classed as a picture book, is by a woman who is an artist in the deepest sense of the word. She also, either consciously or unconsciously, knows children. It is interesting to note, in passing, that Wanda Gág was born of Bohemian immigrant parents in a desolate Minnesota village and that now, at 30, she is acclaimed in the world of art, and by such a man as Rockwell Kent.

"Millions of Cats" is the simply told, rather short tale of an old man and an old woman who want a cat. The old man fares forth to get one for his wife. He comes to a hill that is covered with cats—millions of cats. He tries to choose one for the old woman and picks up first this one and then that one, and then that, until finding each one more winning than the last, he returns to the old woman with all the millions of cats. How they finally choose just one to keep is too charming an ending for me to try to tell you. You must read it yourself—I say you, because you will enjoy it as much as the children.

The form of the book is quite perfect, especially for young children. There is no confusion of decorative effect—no crowding of material. There is, for instance, very little reading on a page. There are fine wide spaces around the text, which is hand lettered and very clear.

There is a picture on every page. These are in black and white in the wood cut manner. The are clear, vigorous, and full of the kind of detail that children love. They are in the best sense of the word modern art, yet with a quality that I can only describe as folksy. You want to look again and again at the funny, fascinating pictures of the little old man and the little old woman and the millions and millions of cats, because they all seem so friendly to you.

As to age, I should say roughly that the book would be enjoyed by children from 3 to 8.

"Millions of Cats" is by Wanda Gág and is published by Coward-McCann of New York City. The price is $1.50.

OF COURSE—

YOU WANT A HAIR TEST

for only then are you sure of a perfect permanent wave

NO one would wear glasses without an eye-test by an oculist. And no woman should have a permanent wave without a hair-test on the Nestle Text-o-Meter. For hair varies just as eyes vary—and for perfect results, each woman's hair must be waved according to the individual requirements of her hair.

The only scientific instrument in the world that can determine hair differences—that can tell your hairdresser how to proceed to wave your hair safely and beautifully—is the Nestle Text-o-Meter.

In 60 seconds, this newest invention of Mr. Charles Nessler (C. Nestle)—originator of the permanent wave and one of the world's leading hair scientists—discovers your "number." This "number" is the key to a perfect wave. It replaces guesswork with Science!

Phone your hairdresser for an appointment for your tested wave—today!

THE NESTLE TEXT-O-METER WILL DISCOVER IT—

WHAT IS YOUR
"NUMBER"?—

Nestle Circulines—the famous Nestle waving-agents for permanent waving—are made in varying strengths. The Nestle Text-o-Meter test determines which strength to use on your hair. Insist that your hairdresser use genuine Nestle Circulines.

Date Muffins.

As a summer confectionery dates are enormously serviceable and also in making such little summer confections as date muffins, date bread, date bars, date puddings of the bread order, and date bars.

There are two things in particular that can spoil a date muffin: Just a tiny bit too much flour, and too much fire in the baking. In making the tiny sort one may have considerable fire and get them baked so quickly that the danger of having them dried out will not be so great as when larger muffins are made. By using the muffin pan for the tiny sort, also we can use a thinner batter; therefore we avoid the muffin that is too stiff.

Try this batter: One egg, one cup of milk, one and three-quarters of a cup of flour, sifted before it is measured, two teaspoons of baking powder, one scant teaspoon of salt, one to three tablespoons of sugar, one to four tablespoons of melted butter, added last and thoroughly beaten in. Four to five ounces of dates are enough for this batter. A little sugar is almost necessary and with more we get a little muffin that is almost a sweet bonbon and yet is not cloyingly sweet. It is really like a little date cup cake.

Wash the dates thoroughly, rub off loose skins if they are not the right type, open the dates, remove the seeds in removing the seeds, roll the opened date and cut it into three parts or more, if you want to. The dates may be cut into good deal finer pieces, floured and stirred into the batter, or the batter may be put into the little wells of the muffin tin and the larger pieces made by cutting a date in three parts may be pressed into the batter just before it is put into the oven.

The top of these little muffins should be smooth like the top of nice cake. If they are rough and have the muffin will be too dry because of too much flour, and when it has been baked in too hot an oven part of that roughness is likely to be pieces of date almost carbonized and so disagreeable.

Date bread and these little muffins are both excellent little items for a picnic luncheon, at which always date should, however, be some plain bread and butter.

Californian Leads His Class for Graduation at U. S. Naval School

Annapolis, Md., June 3.—(AP)—J. B. Webster of San Diego, Cal., led the list of honor men to be graduated from the United States Naval Academy Thursday. The list of the first fourteen in standing in the class was announced today by Lieutenant Commander Harry Patrick, secretary to the academic board.

Those included in the announcement had a standing of better than $500 out of a possible 1,000 credit points for the full four years' course. Webster had $62.50 out of the possible 1,000 to his credit. The men thus honored will receive their diplomas first from the hands of the secretary of the navy at the graduation ceremonies on Thursday, while the rest of the class will be given diplomas in alphabetical order.

In addition to Webster the honor men were A. L. Baird, Cleveland; J. M. Farrin Jr., Chicago; Knight Pryor, Annapolis; J. H. Keatley, Davenport, Ia.; W. C. Allen, Guthrie, Okla.; L. E. Richardson, Boulder, Colo.; C. C. Shute, Philadelphia; C. E. Washington; H. J. Clements, St. Cloud, Minn.; F. M. Adams, Lead, S. D.; C. E. Weakley, St. Joseph, Mo., and D. E. Wait, Eldorado, Ark.

When Curls Were Worn.

A number of years ago, while on a visit to my brother in Cleveland, I wore my vanity curls, which were then in vogue.

At bedtime my little niece would come in my room to say good-night, and she evidently saw me lay the curls aside as I was getting ready to retire, for the next day my embarrassing moment came when we started out on a shopping tour.

That morning my sister, my niece, and I boarded a street car for the city. After we had gotten nicely settled—and of course the old car had to be crowded and we were obliged to face the rest of the passengers—my niece spoke up in a tone of voice that every one could hear and said,

"Mamma, Aunt Minnie wears a wig," and added a moment later when I gave her a dig, "O, you needn't pinch me; I saw you last night when you put it on the dresser."

Of course, everybody giggled, and I immediately lost all interest in our shopping tour, and you may be sure I didn't need any rouge on my cheeks for the next half hour. W. D. L.

Something of a Surprise.

A friend and I went to a movie one night and I thought I recognized the girl in front of us as one who worked in the same office as I. She continually moved from side to side, making it impossible for me to see. Finally I tapped her on the shoulder and said,

"See if you can't stop wiggling. I'm going to hit you over the head," I prayed for the earth to open up and swallow me when the girl turned around and I saw she was a total stranger.

An Evening Model Shows a Spiral Flounce

described as doing a spiral rose dive, for the material is crepe in loveliest of rose red and the skirt selects the spiral effect so much seen in some of the latest Paris creations. As for the dive, here are some plunges below the hem line with which we are so familiar.

Too much cannot be said about the importance of the spiral silhouette for evening. It is Vionnet who strengthens this movement so strongly in the spring, springing out like a fan, am inclined to place much confidence in any mode launched by this creator. It is apt to enjoy a long life. Take, for example, the handkerchief draperies which Vionnet initiated so many seasons ago. Take, also, those devious geometric designs with emphasis upon radiating lines from the center of the frock—both Vionnet models and both of them have been through many seasons of style change!

The spiral silhouette has undergone numerous infections. Sometimes it is incorporated in the body of the skirt and sometimes it is a matter of loose draperies. The latter movement is newer and was, in fact, a feature of the Vionnet midseason showing.

The above frock may take as its medium georgette, flat crepe or crepe de chine. The fact of it is that all the soft crepes, such as silk and satin, occupy an important place in the evening mode. They are often, as is the case here, combined with tulle. In this model the tulle is in matching red and is used for the yoke, straps and draperies. The tailored belt, still so much in evidence, is held by a buckle of brilliants.

TEK
TOOTH BRUSH

Technically designed according to highest dental recommendations

1. Short brushing head

Only 7 rows of bristles in length. Enables you to manipulate TEK quickly and effectively around every curve of the dental arch. Cleanse easily the places that have been hardest to reach.

2. No bristles at leisure

TEK bristles are so trimmed and so designed that all bristle tufts take an active part in every brushing stroke. End bristles are shorter and stand upright when cleaning back teeth. No crowding the cheek.

3. Superior quality

TEK bristles are one to three grades better than those in the ordinary brush. Press them down as a test. Upon release they will immediately return to position. Ordinary bristles remain matted down.

4. Massages the gums

TEK has 4 rows of bristles in width. This extra row of bristles massages your gums with each brushing stroke. Thus in one movement—cleaner teeth and firmer gums.

5. Dispenses dental floss from the handle

As a daily reminder to use floss in cleaning the spaces between your teeth, one TEK model has 10 yards of dental floss in a moisture-proof chamber in its handle. Patent cut-off on the cap. Floss refills supplied by druggists everywhere.

6. Easily gripped handle

The TEK handle has a comfortable "feel". Well balanced, sturdy, flexible, it enables you to brush swiftly, surely, vigorously.

TEK is now on sale everywhere; see both models today.

By using 2 TEK brushes every day, one in the morning, and one at night, you are assured of thoroughly dried bristles at all times.

Society Fete to Aid Home for Homeless Dogs

BY THALIA
There is so much curiosity rife about the stunning new William E. Clark Jr. house in Lake Forest that the Orphans of the Storm benefit bridge party should go like the proverbial hotcakes. Orphans of the Storm, you know, is the stray dog shelter organized and conducted by Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin, Mrs. William E. Swift, and Miss Mildred Flanagan to rescue unfortunate dogs from a dog pound fate.

The affair is to be on June 18, in the afternoon, and invitations decorated with a policeman lassoing a dog in a park are being dispatched to a selected group, one not too large to fit in the house. At first the party was to have been open to the public, but it was decided that the crowd might be too great.

Tables are to cost $10 each. There will be tea and a musical program at 1 o'clock by the boy radio violinist, who is donating his services in gratitude for a canine named "Dinah" given him from the Orphans a year ago.

Numerous reports of the stunning originality of the house have been circulated, and so I viewed its exterior with interest the other day on my way to the Brewster-Hedges wedding. It is a large oblong structure with the ground surrounded by a wall of varying heights. It is on the northeast corner of Green Bay road and Deerpath and faces north. The house and wall are of a bright, warm, cream colored plaster.

The domicile gives the appearance of a Greek temple with columns, and is a startling and impressive combination of modern and classicism. It may not be an accurate description, but after all, a society editor does specialize in architecture as well as clothes, table decorations, garde and horse shows and be good at it.

On that day there were young people dispersing themselves, perched along the wall, and I thought fleetingly that they were an anachronism, as should have been wearing togas and petticoats. In short, it sports draped and shingles. One of the purported features of the interior of the house is a black glass bed with a canopy and prince of Wales plumes.

Miss Edwin Litsinger is giving a luncheon today at the Elgin Country club for Miss Jean Logan, whose engagement to Donald La Chance was announced recently.

Mr. Uri B. Grannis is chairman of the committee in charge of a musical to be given at the D. Mark Cummings residence in Lake Forest on Thursday evening for the benefit of the organ fund of the Church of the Holy Spirit. Assisting her are Mrs. William E. Cassiberry Jr., Mrs. Phelps Kelley, Mrs. Hale Holden Jr., Mrs. Ralph Lengel, Mrs. Dexter Cummings and others.

Besides the nine performances of the South Shore Country club horse show next week there will be a horse show reception party on Tuesday evening with entertainment until 10 o'clock following the opening of the show a mid-week horse show party on Thursday evening, and the annual horse show hall, one of South Shore's most famous functions, on Saturday evening with two orchestras to provide dance music.

Our London correspondent sends more information about Mary Landon Baker, whose sister, Mrs. Robert M. Curtis is near the end of her journey from Europe to Chicago. Miss Baker has returned to London after a long stay in southern France and Italy and has taken a Queen Anne house in St. James place. It is large enough to allow her to entertain in the manner for which she has become known.

At a dinner which she held yesterday until next day she gave orchids as favors for the women, and cigarette holders for the men. The most successful feature unquestionably was a fortune teller, who was being interviewed continually. Lady George Cholmondeley, Sir Henry and Lady Mainwaring, and Lord and Lady Dufferin were among the guests. Miss Baker herself wore a white dress which suited her quiet, dignified attractiveness admirably. Her hair is dark and wavy and her English friends claim that her low pitched voice is actually enhanced by her trans-Atlantic infusion!

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Pike of Lake Forest are aboard the S. S. Olympic which is to dock today in New York City. They have been in Europe for several months, and attended the wedding in Warsaw, Poland, of Miss Suzette Dewey, daughter of the Charles S. Dewey to Frederick Adler, their nephew. Samuel Landi is also listed among those on the Olympic. He and Mrs. Insull have been traveling on the continent since early this year.

MORE FLOWERS ARE SENT TO THE AILING FROM MANY GARDENS

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

The Chicago Plant, Flower and Fruit guild, headed by T. V. Purcell of Evanston, officially opened its booth at the Chicago and North Western railway station yesterday.

From now until the last of September the guild will receive flowers, fruits, and vegetables to be given to the sick in various parts of the city.

The booth will be open from 8 to 11 a. m. daily except Saturday and Sunday.

To impress suburban passengers that the guild's annual work of gathering surplus garden products had started, Mrs. E. E. Underwood of Wheaton, secretary of the organization, and dancing girls in colorful costumes fluttering about the station to catch the eye of commuters. The dancing girls—all Miss Edna Lucile Baum's pupils.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., June 3.—Mrs. Hoover returned to the White House tonight after spending some days in Cambridge and Boston, and at Swarthmore college, Pa., where she attended.

President Hoover gave a dinner last evening at the White House, and had among his guests the secretary of commerce and Mrs. Robert Patterson Lamont, Senator Reed Smoot, Senator Henry J. Allen, Representative, and Mrs. Albert Johnson, and others.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Gann returned today from a short visit at Old Point Comfort. Mrs. Gann has established a unique fashion in visiting cards, and is leading the cards of her brother and the Vice President.

The Vice President reads merely: "The Vice President."

The cards of Mr. and Mrs. Gann are separate ones, one reading simply, "Mrs. Gann," the other "Mr. Gann," without initials or address.

Shaw Loves Own Heroines, Robt. E. Sherwood Declares

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
VIENNA, June 3.—Robert E. Sherwood, author, was the guest of the Austrian Pen club this evening. In an interview in which he said the new play he is writing is called "Those Who Go to War," he declared, "I have no intention of imitating George Bernard Shaw, whom I esteem above all. Public opinion that Shaw has sense but no heart is wrong. Shaw has a heart. The lack of big love scenes in Shaw's plays is due to the fact that he himself is in love with his stage heroines—Candida, Julian H. Levy, 919 Hyde Park boulevard; Donald B. McGuire, 824 North Grove avenue, Oak Park; Mortimer F. Masur, 787 Ridgeland avenue; Jeanne d'Arc, and Cleopatra."

AMBASSADOR FARNWELL WEEZER FOR THIS SEASON MINTURN PLAYERS "Mary's Ankle"

A CHANGE is coming over the well-informed eating ideas of the United States. For a time food extremists tried to make us believe that we had to eat all kinds of things we didn't like in order to be healthy.

Good sense is beginning to assert itself. Prominent medical, scientific and cooking authorities are reminding us that the appetizing flavors of foods may be developed and improved by sugar.

"Fruit flavors," says a famous scientist, "are developed by sugar. Fruit acids are softened by sugar."

"Experience of centuries has shown," says a celebrated physician, "that a poorly nourished body becomes much more quickly subject to such disorders as anemia, tuberculosis, the common cold, or various types of infection. . . . The craze for thinness is an attempt to modify the process of nature."

A group of women cooking authorities, working in New York, recently made a far-reaching test upon the tasteful preparation of vegetables, foods rich in vitamins and minerals. These experts made tests by cooking vegetables in every possible way. A vote was then taken by taste. In every case vegetables cooked with little water and with the correct amount of sugar won first place.

Sugar is nutrient in its least expensive form, and it is nature's perfect flavor. Desserts of fresh or cooked fruits are growing more and more popular. Modern candy containing fruits, nuts and sugar, also fruit pies and hot chocolate with marshmallows, are delicious and satisfying at the end of a meal.

No one should overeat or underexercise, but everyone, in order to be healthy, should eat plenty of healthful foods, deliciously prepared. The best cooks are generous with sugar. The Sugar Institute, 129 Front Street, New York.

Pesky Cousin Sticks Around When Patsy's Boy Friend Calls

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Patsy has a cousin whom she describes as a natural pest. Every time Patsy feels like having a nice chat with a boy friend, a pal of her cousin's, the latter is right there on the job and can't be got rid of by gentle hint. What would you do with a pest like that? would you insult him?

P.

Any lady might, Patsy, under the circumstances. She might be driven to dire extremes were her budding romance haunted by a pest relative. But I doubt if it would do her any good. It's one of those urges that have to be stifled for the good of a disposition's reputation.

One can always try gentle persuasion and I have reason to believe that it is much more effective on a pest—male or female—than insult or violence. The close blood tie might easily permit you to take the pest into your confidence about those cherished traits and what they mean in your young life.

A cousin is far more easily disposed of than a sister or a mate who feels it her duty to listen in on every conversation. The blood distance of a cousin provides a slightly better perspective and there isn't the chaperon alibi imposed by a sister or mate to contend with. In fact, I think a cousin might be disposed of with greater ease were he only made aware of the actual pest.

Suppose you had a sister two years older who blighted all your prospects on the simple ground that she is older, therefore entitled to first chance at every young man brought to the house. That's Marie's predicament, with mother in accord with the older girl. That's the sort of family situation that drives a girl to meeting her boy friends away from the parental roof.

Or suppose like Bernice, you had a brother dictator, who makes her callers write with discomfort because of his questioning of their personal lives. Up to a certain point, it is true, a girl would be lucky to have a brother so interested in her welfare, but not when his Puritanical zeal inspires him to the harsh ordeal Bernice's friends are put through. And then there is the mamma whose

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

(Registered U. S. Patent Office.)

WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

This is a design that most women will include in their wardrobe for sports, travel or street wear. It is a two piece model with a simple slip-on blouse and an all around plaited skirt. A belt holds in the surplus fullness through the hips. Flat silk crepe for the skirt, and several blouses in different colors will make it serviceable and smart.

The pattern, $2.95, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 34, 36, 40, 42, and 44 inches bust measure. Size 38 requires $3.00. 40 inch material for the skirt, with 1 1/4 yards of 40 inch material for the blouse, and 1 yard of 36 inch material for the camisole.

ENGAGEMENT

Mrs. Frederick B. Peck of Easton, Pa., announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Mary Gray Peck, to James Frederic Koehler, son of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Koehler of Wheaton. Miss Peck is a graduate of Vassar college in the class of 1926, and Mr. Koehler was graduated from Princeton university in 1926.

position of guard is so close, a nice young admirer couldn't possibly wedge in a silly season compliment without his intentions being suspected or asked.

No, a young brother or a cousin pest are simple matters of disposition if you know your bribing ropes. Confidence to the cousin, movie fare to the young brother.

DANES FAIR GU
OF $10
Off to London
Happy C

On the eve of London to become court of St. James Dawes, newly appointed to the finance committee
1932 World's Fair
$15,000,000 sought a guarantee of Chicago, which had been fully supported by business leaders.

It was learned in addition to the guarantee already been signed have been made to result in the
the $10,000,000
four million doll-hours.
